LONDON NAVAL CRISIS SOLVED, BRIAND REPORTS

Makes Secret Deal with MacDonald.

LONDON, March 19.—(AP)—Indicates that a way has been found to break the Franco-Italian deadlock over naval parity, which has threatened the life of the five power conference here, was seen tonight in a surprise meeting between Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, and Aristide Briand, foreign minister of France.

The two talked at French headquarters in the Hotel Carlton. Their conversation lasted two and a half hours, and after it M. Briand said: "Always when things seem at their worst we find a way out. That is true now. We have been talking about this for some time and we are going to apply those means as quickly as possible."

MacDonald Requests Interview. The afternoon M. Briand had intended Mr. MacDonald that he was going to Paris tomorrow for a conference with Premier Tardieu and would return with the French premier when the latter came here for the weekend. Mr. MacDonald then telephoned M. Briand and requested an interview. The British chief hurried to the hotel, accompanied by his daughter, Isabel.

That the conference proved unexpectedly important was shown by the fact that M. MacDonald obviously was expecting a quick termination of the conversation. He stated to his father in the lobby during the entire two hours and a half.

Strained Silent on Details. M. Briand was cornered by a handful of newspaper men after the conference. He was so noncommittal as to reveal details, but was quite taken in saying the situation had taken a new turn and that optimistic events were in the air.

Mr. MacDonald came from M. Briand's room with a smiling face and greeted his daughter in an unusually cheerful manner, but he declined to answer any questions.

The French leader, in evading discussion of details, said: "I am in the habit of chatting to my son, and then I am reproached to do so afterwards. We have been taking our bearings and experts have been making the observations." "Free Press" Reports Are Present.

The remark served to bring out the fact that M. MacDonald, French naval secretary, and Mr. Cragie, of the British cabinet, had been present during the conference.

M. Briand further conveyed the idea that he had with Mr. MacDonald was a purely practical agreement, and that he was not to be taken in by the political aspects of the situation. Furthermore, he said that he was in the habit of chatting to his son, and then I am reproached to do so afterwards.

OPEN FINAL DRIVE. AN ARTHUR SEARS MENING. (Chicago Tribune Press Service.) LONDON, March 19.—The development of the coming week-end will depend on whether there is to be a three day or a five power naval limitation treaty on the fruits of the London conference.

The British and American delegates arranged the situation today for the purpose of charting the course they would follow in bringing the negotiations to a head. A meeting of the representatives of the two English speaking nations took place at 10 o'clock in the apartment of American secretary of State Stimson. Great Britain was represented by Prime Minister MacDonald and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty. In addition to Mr. Stimson, America was represented by Ambassador Dwight Davis, secretary of the navy, and Mr. Hoover.

BY DON MAXWELL. (Pictures on back page.)

Chicago's Golden Glove champions proved their greatness last night. They defeated New York's best in a battle of sixteen bouts, winning ten of them. Twenty-three thousand men and women, jamming the Chicago Stadium from skylight to ring, saw them do it.

That crowd, an estimated 22,140 paid, shattered all records for attendance at an indoor fight program.

The huge Stadium, largest indoor boxing arena, was packed for the first time since its opening. Gross receipts exceeded $49,000, another record crashing total for receipts at an indoor fight with a top admission price of $3.

All profits from the show, the third inter-city battle, sponsored by The Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News, go to charity.

Inter-city Score Now Even. The score between the teams of the two cities is now even. The first battle, held in the Coliseum two years ago, ended in a dramatic draw. Last year Chicago invaded Madison Square Garden and lost.

Last night's story of the world's greatest amateur boxing show is a story of superlatives.

Superlative interest, bringing to the Stadium a great army of fight fans, the vanquisher of which was storming the doors four hours before the battle began. Superlative action, packing every round of the sixteen bouts with breath-taking activity. Superlative sportsmanship, with 12 young fellows who fight for the fun of fighting, giving and taking without stint. No one quit.

No professional fight card ever brought the fans to their feet, cheering and applauding, as did this battle between the best of New York and the best of Chicago. There was little to choose between the rival teams. Chicago took an early lead, but New York tied the score at four bouts each and sent cold shivers chasing up and down the spines of Chicago partisans.

Crowd Cheers First Victory. Thrill followed thrill from the time when the great arena was darkened with spot lights sending a beam of light to a gigantic American flag, and the organ pealing forth "The Star Spangled Banner." The crowd stood as the flag was raised majestically to fly at the topmost dais.

The crowd itself deserves description. These 23,000 folks who jammed the Stadium to the bursting point weren't the usual type of fight fans. There were the chaps who never miss a fight, of course, but there was a far larger proportion of bankers, merchants, manufacturers and business men of standing and accomplishment.

The social register, Maxwell street and the back of the yards district all were represented. Newspaper and military correspondents, as they sat side by side, cheering fighters who were fighting for the fun of it.

Not one of the elite at the ringside, for many a millionaire found he couldn't buy ringside seats at the last minute for any price and took the seat that was left—dollar seats in the gallery.

Probably more women saw last night's bouts than any others ever held. They cheered as loudly as their men.

No Letup in Action. There was no letup in the intensity of the drama of thudding gloves. From the time the crowd let loose a roar to awaken the echoes when little Sammy Levine, Chicago flyweight, won a close decision over Jimmy Hughes and started his teammates off to victory until Grant Fortney, the smiling taxi driver of Chicago, won on a foul from Max Glickman, taxi pilot of New York, there was no lessening of the tension.

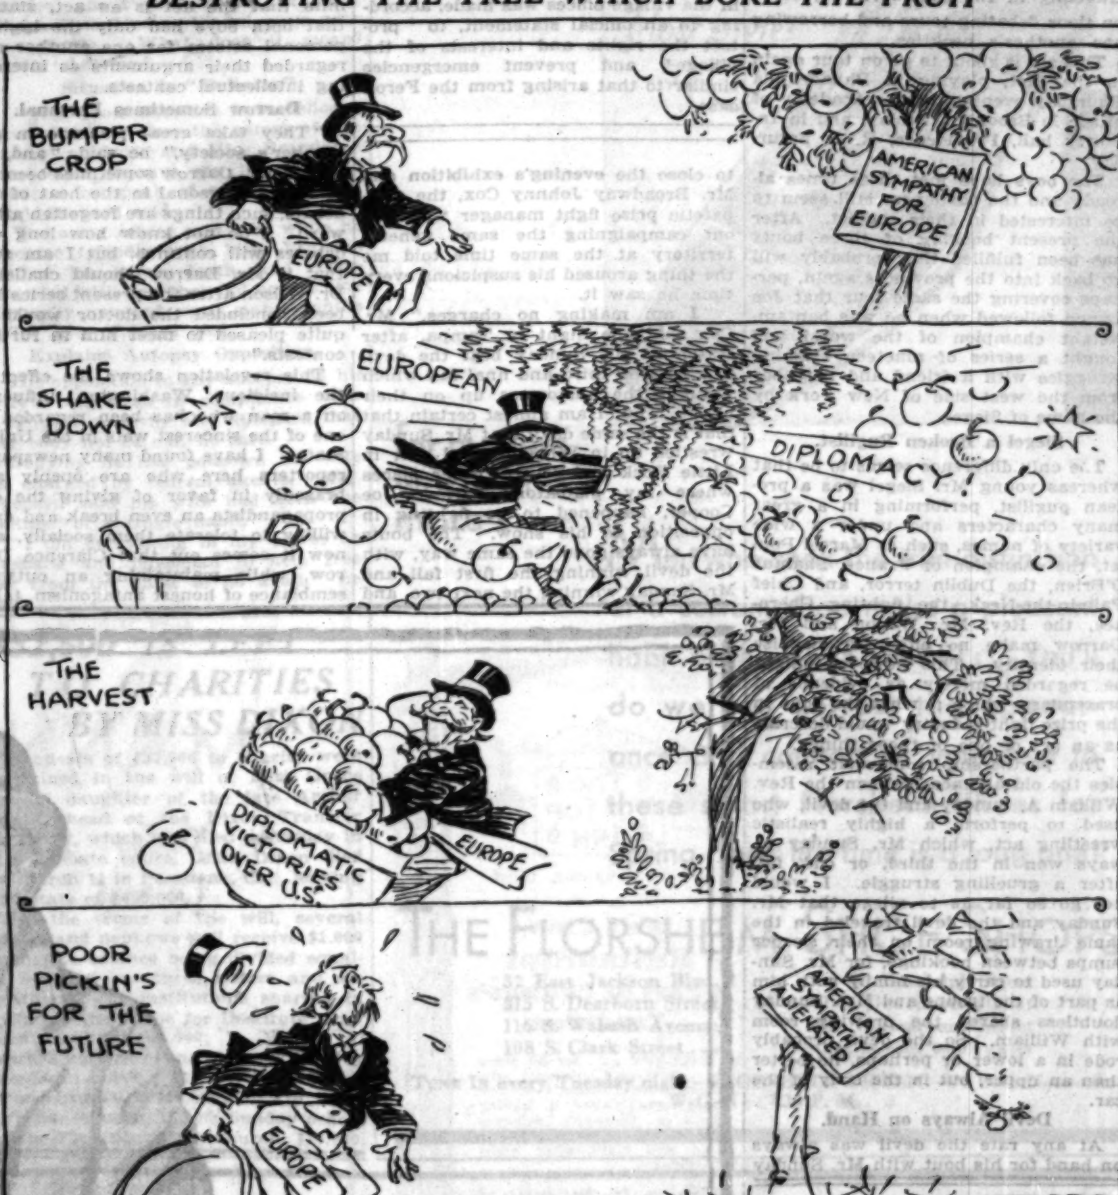

The foul was only one to mark the record of clean sportsmanship. The decision itself was of no consequence, as Chicago already had won the battle.

The score stood nine to six when the two rival tactical drivers, Fortney of Chicago and Glickman of New York, entered the ring. It was unfortunate that the final bout had to end that way.

Glickman and Fortney had been juggling with the speed of light.

DESTROYING THE TREE WHICH BORE THE FRUIT

Spring's Debut Tomorrow to Be Cold Party

Here Blizzard Comes!

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Winnipeg, Man., March 19.—One of the severest blizzards of the season is sweeping across the western prairies of Canada to night. All mail plane service has been suspended. Telegraph lines are crippled. A drop of 40 degrees in temperature in 12 hours is recorded at some points.

At 2:30 a. m. tomorrow the sun will swing across the equator for its six months' cruise in the northern hemisphere, bringing in the spring season and ushering out a winter which has been marked by freakish weather conditions.

Spring will be here, however, only officially for a 20 degree drop in temperature is forecast for tonight.

Snow Record Set. The greatest 24 hour snowfall—11.1 inches—was on the 18th and 19th of December, during one of the worst snowstorms of local record.

The percentage of possible sunshine, 25 per cent, was 15 per cent below normal, and the lowest on record for December, and the 24 cloudy days also established an all time record.

January Sunshine Normal. The January percentage of possible sunshine and the average daily cloudiness were exactly normal. The daily mean temperature was above normal on all but one of the first 14 days, but the unusually cold periods that followed lowered the monthly mean to 23.1 degrees, an average daily deficiency of 2.4 degrees. The mercury dropped to zero or lower on seven days, the extreme being 14 below on Jan. 14.

February was unusually mild and dry, the balmiest on record since 1882 and the third mildest for all time. The daily mean temperature was above normal on all except four days. The highest temperature was 67 above, on Feb. 21, which has been exceeded only once in February, the record being 68 degrees on Feb. 22, 1922.

TWO NIGHT CLUB PATRONS SHOT; BANDIT SLAIN

New York, March 19.—(Special.)—Three robbers who had just held up the proprietor and patrons of Charlie's Triangle club, a Greenwich Village cafe at 27 Carmine street, and one of whom had shot and seriously wounded a man and a woman patron, were surprised tonight by Patrolman James Rogers as they started to escape.

Crouching in the vestibule of the restaurant the robbers fired shot after shot at the patrolman, who returned their fire. At last, their ammunition exhausted, two of them fled through Carmine street.

Rogers shot one dead. The other escaped. The third, who is alleged to have shot the two patrons, was trapped inside, with his pistol empty, and he was beaten unconscious by the other patrons.

Thilo Slayers Found Guilty; Get 14 Years

Three youthful slayers of Dr. George W. Thilo escaped yesterday with the minimum punishment for murder when a jury in Judge John J. Sullivan's Criminal court fixed 14 years in the penitentiary as their sentence.

They reached their verdict after nearly three hours of deliberation. For a time it appeared that a not guilty verdict might be returned because some of the jurors argued that although the defendants admitted the robbery they denied the murder.

The defendants are Allan Goldstein, 18 years old; Raymond Scott, 19, and Lawrence Ogden, 24. The state had demanded the death penalty.

Demands New Trial Plea

Attorneys Samuel Hoffman and Charles Dougherty for the defense made the customary motions for a new trial and stay of mittimus. Judge Sullivan promptly overruled both motions.

The defendants are now serving terms of one year to life each on robbery charges. The murder charge verdict is considered no more severe than the sentences under which the men are now in Pontiac reformatory.

Mrs. Charlotte Thilo, the widow, declined to comment except to say that she hopes she is never again called upon to have any business with the Criminal courts. She has been trying since Dec. 14, 1928, to bring the murderers of her husband to trial.

Protests Finally Bring Trial

The murder charge multimis became lost for some months and it was only when Mrs. Thilo complained to the medical society and the Chicago crime commission that the case was finally brought to the attention of the grand jury. Even then it was close to one year before the case came to trial.

The defendants admitted robbing Dr. Thilo and seven or eight other victims. They denied, however, that they had beaten the physician or done anything to bring about his death. They said he stumbled and fell when he tried to back away from them. The state produced physicians to testify that Dr. Thilo was kicked during the robbery.

Goldstein's bride of two weeks was in court when the verdict was read. He was married since he has been in jail. She cried as the jury read its verdict.

Trotzky, Gravely Ill, Begs to Leave Turkish Exile

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) ISTANBUL, March 19.—Leon Trotsky, exiled leader of soviet Russia, is a very sick man. Suffering from a lung inflammation, Trotsky appealed to friends today to obtain permission for him to go to France or Germany for medical treatment.

Officials Aim to Avert New Finance Crisis

Tax bills for 1928 will be mailed by June 1 to avert a second and more serious financial crisis in local governments. This was the promise of taxing officials yesterday as governmental bodies considered the possibility of chaos after July 1, when the $74,000,000 fund raised by the Strawn citizens' committee will be exhausted. The bills will be the first received by taxpayers of Cook county in more than two years.

The June 1 date was fixed yesterday after Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, announced that the board will complete its work by May 1. Chief Deputy County Clerk James W. Ryan declared that the work of extension and levying will be done within the month with full and overtime staffs. Assistant County Treasurer Gregory T. Van Meter said the treasurer's office will work hand in hand with that of the county clerk.

Month to Collect Taxes

The program will give a month to collect taxes before the deadline date of July 1. Little hope is held that taxpayers will hurry to pay their bills until shortly before the penalty date, 30 days after the bills are mailed. Mr. Van Meter promised every dispatch in turning over funds to governmental bodies, so that they may have money as the funds of the citizens committee are depleted.

The program hinges on the promise of Harry S. Outmore, director of the assessment, to deliver the $4 remaining assessment rolls for the towns of Evanston, New Trier and Worth by Saturday. He ordered his staff to work 24 hours a day, so that the books might be turned over to the board of review on the set time.

The reviewers are compelled by law to allow ten days for the filing of complaints. This will allow them to open hearings on April 1. Meanwhile, the board of review will finish work on the 152 books now in its possession. The reviewers have sent 145 books to the county clerk, Chairman William H. Weber brightened the hope for an early ending of the task by stating that the tangled loop assessment will be solved by the end of next week.

"We have only a little work to do on the books now in our hands," Mr. Barrett said. "We can clean this up by the time the last of the books are delivered to us by the assessors. At the hearings on the tax situation before Gov. Emmerson early in February we were promised the books by Feb. 20. It is now a month later."

"Despite the delay, we hope to achieve the promise made by us then that bills will be collected by July 1. To further this plan hearings will be held by April 15. This will allow our clerks two weeks to complete their share of the work. If we find that they are not able to handle it we will hire more clerks so that the last book may go out of our offices by May 1. That date is definite."

Council Asks Change

The city council yesterday passed a resolution calling on the assessors and reviewers to place valuations for assessment purposes on all uncompleted buildings on April 1 of each year. In the past no assessments have been placed against uncompleted buildings on the date fixed for listing real estate for assessment purposes.

Ald. John S. Clark (30th), who introduced the resolution, declared the value of uncompleted buildings on April 1, 1929, was $146,000,000, and that in their uncompleted condition they represented $29,000,000 worth of assessable property. He declared that under the law it is the duty of assessing authorities to make such assessments. The resolution asked that this be done in the 1929 assessment.

FORESEES CITIES WITHOUT BABIES PLANTS OR PETS

New York, March 19.—(Special.)—American civilization in its urban tendency will eliminate animals, plants, and finally children from its great cities in the opinion of Dr. Edward C. Lindemann, of the New York School of Social Research. He spoke tonight at the annual dinner of the city housing corporation.

In future, he said, the actual rearing of families will take place in ever-widening circles away from the centers of population.

Shot by Dry Officers, May Die; Alcohol Seized

Boston, Mass., March 19.—(AP)—Raymond Palano, of Somerville, was probably fatally shot in an encounter with a squad of Boston officers in the Hyde Park section of the city tonight. Several gallons of alcohol were found in a sedan, in which police said he had been riding with his brother, Peter, who was arrested charged with the illegal transportation of liquor.

DANIELS WANTS DRY LAW TRIED FOR A CENTURY

Favors Spending 300 Millions a Year.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Washington, D. C., March 19.—(Special.)—Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy in the Wilson cabinet and an active dry leader, told the house judiciary committee today that he favored a 100 million dollar annual appropriation, if necessary, to enforce the Volstead law, and that he would not consider changing it for at least 100 years.

Encouraged by the cheers of an enthusiastic dry audience, composed largely of women, the wartime navy chief, now a newspaper editor in Raleigh, N. C., delivered the most impassioned dry plea yet heard at the committee's prohibition hearings.

If Mr. Daniels had his way, he said, he would use unlimited means and funds to make citizens obey the law, extend it to the Philippines, the Panama Canal Zone and other territories and possessions, and ban liquor from foreign embassies. He urged congress to turn a deaf ear to the "propaganda of wet nullificationists" for modification or repeal and stand firm on the proposition that "this law shall and must be preserved."

Hearing May End Today

The dry produced former Secretary Daniels as one of the four spokesmen heralded as star witnesses for the next to last day of their testimony, which, unless extended by the committee, will end tomorrow or Friday noon.

Others taking the stand today were Prof. Horace D. Taft, head master of the Taft School for Boys at Watertown, Conn., and brother of the late William Howard Taft; Attorney William S. Bennett of Chicago, former representative from New York and now counsel for the Edward Hines interests; and Col. Walter F. Jenkins of the Salvation Army, New York City, who presented a statement in behalf of Commander Evangeline Booth.

Former Secretary Daniels, because of his prominence, was saved as the last witness on today's program, but did not escape without cross-examination. He was subjected to a grilling that several times forced him to demur.

"You were a member of President Wilson's cabinet?" asked Representative F. H. La Guardia (Rep. N. Y.) abruptly as Mr. Daniels completed his prepared statement. The witness replied that he was. "And you are aware, of course, that President Wilson vetoed the Volstead act?"

Wilson's Veto Overruled. Evidently prepared for the question, Mr. Daniels sought to read the Wilson veto message, but was overruled by Chairman George S. Graham (Rep. Pa.). This precipitated a stormy discussion, the dry insisting that the message be put into the record. This finally was consented to.

"You say the eighteenth amendment is 'fairly well enforced' in North Carolina?" La Guardia inquired when the squabble was over.

"Yes, it is," Daniels replied. "And," the interrogator continued, "would you say the other amendments to the constitution—the fourteenth and fifteenth—for instance, are 'fairly well enforced' in North Carolina?"

The witness hesitated at this, finally saying, "Yes, they are fairly well enforced," at which La Guardia simply smiled.

World-Spend 300 Million a Year. "You say the wet is not together on a plan," said Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem., N. Y.). "Do you think the colonists were together on a plan of government in 1776?"

DANIELS—No, perhaps they were not.

CELLER—And do you know how long it took to agree on a solution to the slavery problem and farm relief?

DANIELS—I took patience. That's what we ask—patience until we give this law a fair trial.

CELLER—Isn't ten years long enough?

DANIELS—"We have not had a fair trial. I would not limit it by years. This law is so important, I'd take 100 years if necessary."

CELLER—At whatever cost in lives and money?

DANIELS—I think the cost is getting lower and lower all the time.

CELLER—Would you be in favor of an expenditure of 300 million dollars a year?

DANIELS—Yes, if necessary. Why would you say 300 hundred million dollars in the cost of liquor alone?

Would Dry Up Embassies. In answer to other questions Mr. Daniels condemned the use of liquor in Washington embassies and in the territories, declaring that he would get stripes first. This brought prolonged applause. He also commended Attorney General Mitchell's edict that department of justice employees must be dry law sympathizers and abstainers.

Average net paid circulation of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE February, 1930: Daily - - - - 842,734 Sunday - - - 1,156,891

In his prepared statement Mr. Daniels justified the use of force in carrying out the dry laws by comparing it to the laws doing away with slavery and dueling.

"I call attention to the long and often bloody trail that has followed every attempt of mankind to end the way of evil, particularly those that may be said to have become domesticated," he asserted. "Laws against evil, vice and greed are resisted, sometimes unto death."

"Though the nations have agreed to make submarine warfare more humane, who believes it will be at once universally respected when nations go to war? And yet because prohibition has not met the expectations of those who favored it, what is involved in the proposals before this committee? Banned down they all say: Return to the saloon."

Means Return to Saloon.
"The man who opposes prohibition and says in the next breath that he never could tolerate the return of the saloon either is practicing deception or he does not know that just as soon as night follows day the fall of prohibition is the reinforcement of the saloon. There has never been any alternative. There cannot be any other alternative. The prohibition must be considered with that absolute promise and certainty."

Immediately after making this statement, however, Mr. Daniels launched into a long discussion of the saloon dispensary system, admitting that "the dispensary was better than the saloons and in every way prohibition is better than either."

Taft Asked Brother's Views.
Prof. Taft at the outset as a witness involved himself in a dispute over the views of his brother, William Howard Taft, on prohibition. He emphatically denied that his brother was a wet.

"My brother was opposed to adoption of prohibition," he said. "The reasons he gave in one or two articles and speeches are much the same as those used by other men. When, however, the amendment was adopted and the law passed, he became convinced that both of them were wrong and that all good citizens must observe the law and do all in their power to help in its enforcement."

This statement was immediately challenged by the wet committee. Representative Celler quoted the late Mr. Taft's letter to Allen Lincoln of Sept. 7, 1917, stating that he thought prohibition would fail because it was "sumptuary legislation," an unwise extension of federal power, and would inject a troublesome issue into politics.

Prof. Taft did not dispute the authenticity of this letter. But he argued that in the last ten years of his life his brother "changed his mind."

In his general statement, Prof. Taft stressed the dry majorities in congress, declaring that the wets have entirely failed to explain away this political weakness in the light of their charge that the people do not want prohibition.

Prof. Taft explained that his school for boys, a prep school for Yale, sends two-thirds of its graduates to that university. His attention was called to the recent Yale student straw vote which went five to one wet.

"This is no revolt of youth," he declared with a smile, "object to taking the evidence of these youngsters as serious. I have a lot of the young wets in my classes. Some of them are ferocious. They say drinking before prohibition was not nearly so bad as now and most of them were then in kindergarten."

Tells of New York Conditions.
Mr. Bennett, although his offices are in Chicago, confirmed his remarks almost entirely to the situation in New York City, his former home. He explained that he lived in Evanston, twenty miles away, and really knew

BONE DRY INDIANA SUPPLIES SOME ODD PROHIBITION ITEMS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19.—[Special.]—Howard Lester, 45, has an unusual idea about the protection that American flag can give him. Searching Lester's rooms here early today for liquor, policemen came to a large trunk. The top tray contained a folded flag. The bottom compartment held 51 bottles of whiskey.

Police Robbed of Beer.
Bedford, Ind., March 19.—[Special.]—Robbery has been committed at the police station here, it was revealed today. Ten of twenty-four bottles of beer taken in a raid were stolen.

An 8 Year Old Drunk.
Shoals, Ind., March 19.—[Special.]—A bottle of whiskey given by two boys to another eight year old boy nearly cost the latter's life when he collapsed on a Baltimore and Ohio railroad track here and was found just before a passenger train passed. Authorities are attempting to get the boy's name and the name of the boy who gave him the liquor.

nothing about prohibition in Chicago. The burden of his testimony was that prohibition has been of great benefit to the workers in industries. In this day of high powered machinery, he said, drunken workers cannot be tolerated.

Col. Jenkins of the Salvation Army, appearing for Commander Booth, who sent word her health would not permit her to appear, read a twenty-five page statement written by her in which she lauded the prohibition law as a boon to the element of humanity with which her organization deals.

Miss Booth's Views.
In her written statement, Commander Booth emphasized the fact that the lower strata of social life have been which she lauded the prohibition law as a boon to the element of humanity with which her organization deals.

"A few weeks ago in Chicago the health authorities were confronted with a smallpox scare that made it advisable to come to one of our places, where we had over 500 men sleeping," she stated. "The efficiency of prohibition underwent a most impartial test. These 500 men were vaccinated and not one of them was found to be under the influence of drink. It would have been quite impossible to make a statement like this under the old days of license."

"The managers of this and another of our places in Chicago, caring jointly for 760 men, assure me that before prohibition from 25 to 33 per cent of the men would be more or less under the influence of liquor every night."

Explaining that the average age of girls under the army's care has changed since 1914 from 23 to 19, Commander Booth said that it was due to other things than prohibition.

"Formerly," she said, "drink and the social evil were interlocking in a most pronounced way, and recovery for the wronged woman was the work of much longer and patient care than the case that we now have. A second or third lapse would naturally make the subject much older than when the first mistake course was followed. This alone explains for the difference in the average age of the inmates in our retreat."

Yale Professor to Join Law Faculty at U. of C.

The appointment of Donald Slesinger, executive secretary of the institute of human relations at Yale university, as executive secretary of the university research committee and professor of law at the University of Chicago, was announced yesterday by Leonard D. White, whom he will succeed as secretary of the committee. Prof. White will return to his old position as professor of public administration.

WET-DRY BOUTS FOUND FULL OF PULLED PUNCHES

Dr. Wilson and Darrow Friendly Enemies.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., March 19.—[Special.]—It seems unfortunate that the New York prize fight commission has no jurisdiction over the debating business, because your correspondent has just made the depressing discovery that the Rev. Clarence True Wilson, head man of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals, and Clarence Darrow of Chicago, a wet, are likely to be found traveling in the same drawing room on their debating tours and borrowing one another's neckties.

This act is about to go on tour again in the east, playing in Philadelphia Thursday evening, in the Academy of Music in Brooklyn, Friday, and in the Pantry hall, Providence, R. I., Saturday.

The boys have met three times already and the customers still seem to be interested in their contest. After the present booking of three bouts has been fulfilled they probably will go back into the provinces again, perhaps covering the same tour that Joe Lynch followed when he was bantamweight champion of the world and fought a series of nine, slashing struggles with a friend and neighbor from the west side of New York by the name of Siegel.

Siegel a Broken Pugilist.
The only difference seems to be that whereas young Mr. Siegel was a protean pugilist, performing in a great many characters and under a wide variety of names, such as Marcell Poullet, the champion of France, Shamus O'Brien, the Dublin terror, and Chief Pain-in-the-Neck, the fighting Cherokee, the Rev. Mr. Wilson and Mr. Darrow make no effort to disguise their identity. This, however, might be regarded merely as evidence of brazenness, which is what the boys in the prize fight industry would describe as an act or one of those things.

The partnership somewhat resembles the old alliance between the Rev. William A. Sunday and the devil, who used to perform a highly realistic wrestling act, which Mr. Sunday always won in the third, or odd, fall not so far as to allege that Mr. Sunday and the devil traveled in the same drawing room on their sleeper jumps between bookings. Mr. Sunday used to carry his family with him as part of the troupe and Mrs. Sunday doubtless shared the drawing room with William. So the devil probably rode in a lower or perhaps, no better than an upper, out in the body of the car.

Devil Always on Hand.
At any rate the devil was always on hand for his bout with Mr. Sunday

FERON CASE BRINGS SHAKEUP OF VILLAGE OFFICES IN OAK PARK

The village board of Oak Park last night appointed a new justice of the peace to assume the duties of police magistrate, named a new village attorney, increased the salary of the village prosecutor, and created a new position of controller-purchasing agent as a result of the situation arising from the alleged embezzlement of $15,000 in village funds by Police Magistrate James M. Feron.

Paul R. Wick, village attorney, was appointed justice of the peace to take over Feron's old duties at a salary of $100 a month, and Robert E. Cantwell Jr. was made acting village attorney at a salary of $300 a month to succeed Wick. The board raised the salary of Thomas A. Walpole, prosecutor, from $150 to $200 and named W. J. Unfried, chairman of the finance committee, controller and purchasing agent at a salary of $375.

The board also empowered the president, Charles Chrysler, to appoint another justice of the peace whenever he considers it advisable. The shakeup in the village offices was made, according to an official statement, to "protect the rights and interests of the village" and prevent emergencies similar to that arising from the Feron case.

To close the evening's exhibition and Mr. Broadway Johnny Cox, the pet peptic prize fight manager who was out campaigning the same general territory at the same time told me the thing aroused his suspicions every time he saw it.

"I am making no charges," Mr. Cox said one night in Tampa, after watching Mr. Sunday beat the devil in a rousing third and final fall which brought the customers up on their chairs. "But I am almost certain that it is the same devil that Mr. Sunday wrestled with in Wheeling and over in Little Rock and several other places where my gladiator, Farmer Joe Cooper, happened to be fighting in opposition to his show. The bouts have always gone the same way, and the devil winning the first fall and Mr. Sunday winning the next two, and the boys seem to know all about each other's stuff.

"I would not make any charges even if I had positive information you understand, because it is my policy to live and let live, but I wish I could get some good monkey to form an act with my farmer and stir up the waps in a harmless and profitable way. The way things are going, I have to work my brain to the bone to dig up buns for him to fight and you never can tell when some strange bum is going to smack him one on the head, and then where would I be?"

Mr. Wilson is what you might call the fancy boxer of the act, dealing all entirely in statistics and orthodox arguments, whereas Mr. Darrow might be regarded as the slugger, going in for sentimental and psychological appeals and some times settling down on the flat of his soles to bang away with somewhat personal remarks about the Rev. Mr. Wilson, which arouse great excitement among the customers and evoke outcries, pro or con, according to whether the house is wet or dry.

Thus far, I believe, Mr. Darrow has won more newspaper decisions than the Rev. Mr. Wilson, but they have been playing in wet or moist territory. Of course, if they should extend the tour down into the southern and mid-western agricultural centers, Mr. Wilson would be practically certain to win all heats.

Dr. Wilson's secretary virtually admits that the act is an act, stating that both boys had only the highest personal esteem for one another and regarded their arguments as interesting intellectual contests.

Darrow Sometimes Personal.
"They take great pleasure in one another's society," he said, "and, although Mr. Darrow sometimes becomes somewhat personal in the heat of the debate, such things are forgotten afterward. I do not know how long the debates will continue, but I am sure that if Mr. Darrow should challenge Dr. Wilson after the present series has been concluded the doctor would be quite pleased to meet him in further contests."

This revelation shows the effect of the insidious Washington influence on a man who has been regarded as one of the sincerest wets in the United States. I have found many newspaper reporters here who are openly and brazenly in favor of giving the dry propagandists an even break and even willing to tolerate them socially, and now it comes out that Clarence Darrow, while maintaining an outward semblance of honest antagonism, takes great pleasure in the company of the head man of the Methodist board of temperance, and so forth.

Even worse, I am told that the Hon. Porello H. La Guardia, the New York wet congressman, once rushed in as a substitute for Mr. Darrow in a debate with Dr. Wilson and that he, too, is guilty of considerable personal respect and liking for him, which is a very degrading thing, naturally, denoting serious moral decay.

Obviously this is no safe place for one's ideals, and your correspondent is leaving at once.

Survey Reveals Need of Elevators "Pressing."

BY PAUL POTTER.

Out of the whirlpool of news and views on the international tension situation that confronts grain producers, commodity exchanges, and government and banking institutions, today came these important announcements of the federal farm program.

The National Grain Corporation, made up of the result of their survey on grain storage facilities in the United States, and announced the intention of purchasing and building additional elevators throughout the grain producing area, by means of loans to cooperative associations.

Hyde Replies to Senate.

A Secretary of Agriculture Arthur H. Hyde in Washington, D. C., announced a previous request of the Senate for his recommendations regarding the acute grain situation by advising the continuation of open market wheat trading in future delivery contracts.

The German government raised its previous high tariff rates on the wheat grains about one-fourth, and measures to see that Germany secure their own rye and barley instead of importing wheat.

A veteran Chicago grain trader who served under Hoover's wartime grain administration program, declared to the board and the government that the announced plans of procedure are "virtually cornering the wheat market," and attempting to effect "artificial crop reduction."

Report Conference Fail.

A board meeting of large holders of grain, the so-called speculators, will turn board representatives in Chicago this week to adjust delivery of grain on future contracts.

Mr. Hyde, in response, declared that grain and cotton exchanges "play a necessary and important part in the sale and distribution of these great staple agricultural commodities." He added that "these facilities should be retained and that if any changes are made in existing law it should be with a view to strengthening regulatory powers of the grain futures and cotton futures acts."

Secretary Hyde's report to the Senate was in reply to the Heflin resolution adopted on Feb. 26, suggesting that speculation on farm products was harmful.

Mr. Hyde, in response, declared that grain and cotton exchanges "play a necessary and important part in the sale and distribution of these great staple agricultural commodities." He added that "these facilities should be retained and that if any changes are made in existing law it should be with a view to strengthening regulatory powers of the grain futures and cotton futures acts."

ROOT DENIES HIS WIFE'S CHARGES IN REPLY TO SUIT

John W. Root, noted architect of the firm of Holabird and Root, yesterday filed an answer to his wife's bill for divorce in the Superior court.

His wife, the former Ellen Dudley, brought her suit on Jan. 13, charging cruelty and asking temporary alimony and the custody of their daughter, Denise. The Roots were married on Oct. 1, 1914, and separated last Jan. 20.

Root's answer says that Mrs. Root has not been a good wife, as set forth in her bill. He also denies allegations of personal violence, drunkenness, and profanity and denies that the separation was brought about through him.

He declares that his wife has disqualified any claim she might have for the custody of the child. The answer indicates that Root will contest the divorce.

Root is the son of John W. Root, chief architect for the Columbian exposition. He was educated in Switzerland and France and has won many prizes in architectural competition.

Before her marriage Mrs. Root was prominent in amateur theatricals and she has been in the Goodman theater plays in recent years.

Schumann-Heink's Plea

San Diego, Cal., March 19.—(Special.)—Henry Schumann-Heink, 48-year-old promoter and ex-head of a securities company, was granted five years' probation today by Judge Charles Haines. Schumann-Heink was twice convicted of converting $3,000 securities of his customers before his brokerage house went under.

Judge Haines last Monday ordered Schumann-Heink to serve six months in jail or on the county road gang as part of a two-year probationary sentence. The convicted man and his mother, Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, noted judges, both thereupon entered tearful pleas and Judge Haines withheld his final word until today.

MAJOR ACCUSED AS WIFE SLAYER PLANNED TO WED

Admits His Engagement to Stenographer.

Denver, Colo., March 19.—(AP)—Maj. Charles A. Shepard, under arrest here on a charge of wife murder, said in an interview today that he had become engaged to marry Miss Grace Brandon, 23-year-old San Antonio, Tex., stenographer, eight months after his wife's death at Fort Riley, Kan., last June.

He made the statement when informed of a telegram sent yesterday by Miss Brandon in which she informed him she had been questioned by two men of the department of justice about the death of Mrs. Shepard, concluding the telegram with the words, "What does it mean?"

Situation Is "Delicate."

"The whole situation is so delicate, involving as it does the names of two ladies—my wife and Miss Brandon—that even to say my wife I would hesitate to speak of certain things," Maj. Shepard said.

The army officer said that while he became friendly with Miss Brandon before his wife's death, and corresponded with her, they did not become formally engaged until eight months after Mrs. Shepard died.

Explains Autopsy Opposition.

His opposition to any autopsy on his wife's body was in compliance with her wishes, he said. Maj. Shepard said his wife had been the victim of "a bad case of heart."

AUTOS COLLIDE AT CORNER; ONE KILLED, 2 HURT

James H. Jones, 51 years old, 5735 South Campbell avenue, was killed and John M. Hatton, 4735 South Maplewood avenue, and Albert A. Rolland, who lives with Jones, were slightly injured when two automobiles collided and overturned at 44th and Wood streets yesterday. Jones was riding with Rolland when they collided with Hatton's car. Both Rolland and Hatton were held.

Jones' death and three others raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 191. The victims are:

Ernest Piza, 69 years old, 427 Siegel street. Killed when struck by a truck driven by Leo Waller, 3008 North Francisco street, in front of 1230 Clybourn avenue. Waller was not held.

Edward Kopee, 7 years old, 2263 West 19th street. Partially injured by a hit and run driver when he ran into the street in front of 2234 West 31st street.

John King, 71 years old, 9231 Maple avenue. Died last night in the South Chicago hospital of injuries received Feb. 22 when he was struck by an automobile at East 92d street and Exchange avenue.

Two unidentified men riding in a Chicago automobile were killed last night near Indianapolis when the speeding car plunged from a curve in the highway, died over a 40-foot bluff, and was caught in steel cables overhanging the waters of Eagle creek.

A third occupant of the car, Mrs. Ada Davenport, 23 years old, of Indianapolis, was only slightly bruised. The automobile was owned by Henry Huether, 132 Egin avenue, Forest Park. At his home he said he had driven from Florida to Atlanta, Ga., where he took a train for Chicago, leaving his car to be driven to Forest Park by P. L. Williams of Riceville, Ga., a friend of a cab company in Atlanta. Williams' card was found in the wreckage and he is supposed to have been one of the victims.

MANDEL BROS. ENTERTAIN AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

75th Anniversary Recalls Early Days of City.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Polished at the turn of its third century, the firm of Mandel Brothers yesterday waxed reminiscent in inaugurating a celebration of the event as much civic as it was commercial. The third largest of the world's great department stores, the State street institution which has grown up with Chicago, turned a potentially youthful eye down the vista of its seventy-five years, to smile indulgently at its own and the struggle community's piffling infancy.

Flanked by an imposing array of representatives of the oldest and most substantial of the city's business institutions, members of the firm presided at a luncheon launching the birthday festivities at noon in the ivory room of the store. There, from the perspective of their company's prosperous middle age amid the felicitations of their friends and competitors, they reviewed the past in brief addresses, and formally opened the historical exhibit on the seventh floor.

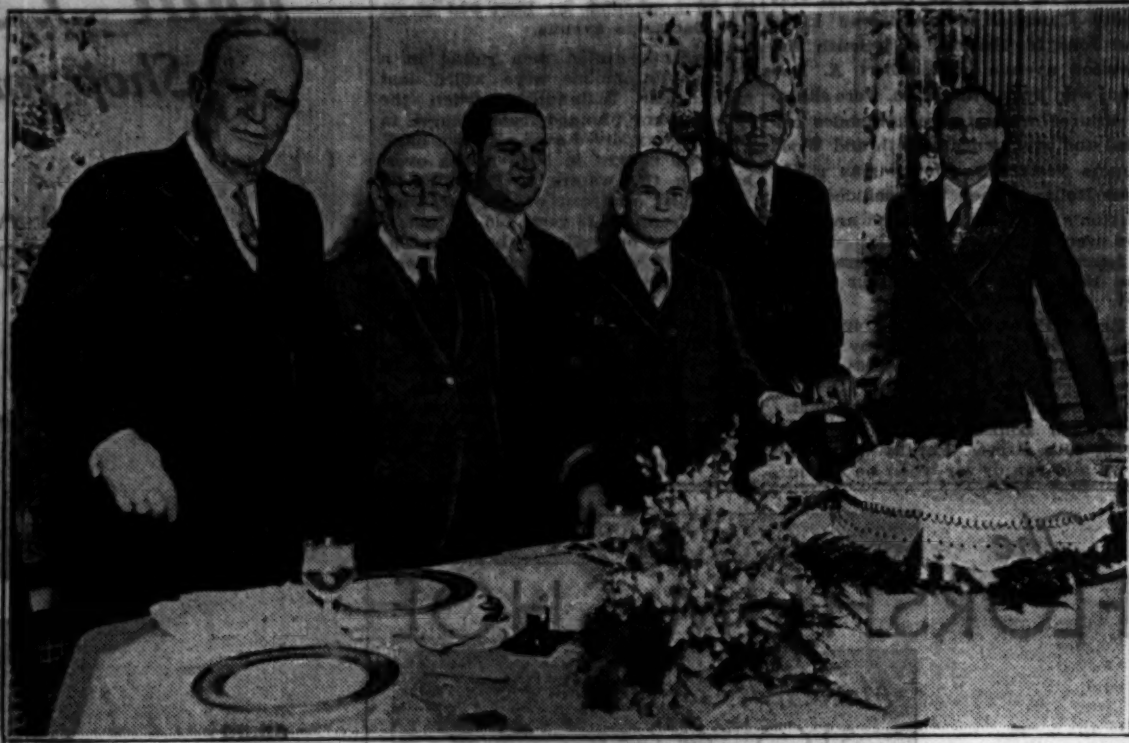

(Show History of Chicago.) Students of history found the temporary museum established on the seventh floor an entrancing demonstration of the development of the city. At the same time, mannequins decked in the exaggerated modes of bygone days promenade in various departments to the amusement of customers, and sang old fashioned ballads for the guests at the luncheon.

The museum exhibits, arranged in chronological order, were loaned from such authentic sources as the Chicago Historical society, the University of Michigan, and the older Chicago institutions, including the University of Wisconsin. From the last named came a miniature of a rolograture press, the only one of its kind, capable of being operated on the spot.

(Famous Tomahawk on Display.) One of the most significant objects in the entire museum is a tomahawk, part of the Chandler collection of Indian relics secured from the University of Michigan. The weapon is that which was traded to the Indian tribes by "Mad Anthony" Wayne on Aug. 17, 1795, in exchange for the six square miles of ground on which Chicago's busiest floor section is now situated. Another item of exceptional interest is a pair of spallards once worn by Jean Baptiste Beaubien, one of the first of the city's inhabitants.

Among the guests who congratulated Fred L. Mandel Sr., president of the firm, and Leon Mandel II, general manager, at the luncheon were Lieut. Gen. Fred. Sterling, Dr. Lee De Forest, "father of radio," Rabbi Louis L. Mann, the Rev. J. N. Loe-

COPS SPURN WAGES OF SIN; LET VIRTUE PAY THEIR REWARD

Sgt. John Martin and his detective bureau squad yesterday rejected the wages of sin—$50 each in their case—and found that virtue would reward them with $3.33 1/3.

Martin and his squad stopped John Carroll, 48 years old, who gave his address at 112 Western avenue, Park Ridge, at Washington and Clark streets. Carroll, who was picked up as a suspicious character, pulled out a roll of bills and peeled off three $50 bills offered them to the detectives to permit him to go about his business.

On the way to the detective bureau Carroll gnawed at the fingers of his right hand and on his arrival at the bureau of Identification, the police found that he had mutilated the skin on his fingertips. He was identified, however, by the prints of his left hand which showed him to be Ray McIntosh, who escaped from the Stillwater, Minn., penitentiary in 1923 while serving a ten year sentence.

A reward of $25 for his capture will be shared by Martin and the other two members of his squad.

Free Gas Station Owner Who Chased Two with Gun

Frank Redial, 617 South Racine avenue, and Peter Loverde, 2243 Grand avenue, whose car Vansal fired on during a five mile chase, were fined $25 and $5, respectively, on charges of disorderly conduct.

Charged with Laziness—Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty per cent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity! That persistent feeling—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany.

APPROVE PLAN TO OPEN SOUTH STREETS TO LOOP

Project Accepts Present Railroad Layout.

Plans for the opening and widening of streets from the loop through the near south side railroad yards were adopted yesterday by the city council railway terminals committee. The short stretch in the railroad yards would be dedicated to the railroads, and 22d street widened where it is of purpose of allowing the railroads and other interested parties to record their objections or suggestions, according to Ald. Edward J. Kaindl (14th), chairman of the committee. If the plans are acceptable the board of local improvements will be requested to draw an ordinance for the construction of the street improvements by special assessment.

Consider Rail Location. The plans take into consideration the present location of the railroad terminals. If the railroads join in the construction of a consolidated terminal the street plans will not interfere, according to Kaindl.

Under the recommendations of the engineer five streets will be opened and elevated over the railroad tracks. They are Franklin between the loop and 22d street, La Salle between Taylor and 22d streets, Dearborn between Taylor and 14th streets, Wells between Taylor street and Roosevelt road, and 14th between Clark and Canal streets. Blackwell street, a short stretch in the railroad yards, would be dedicated to the railroads, and 22d street widened where it is of limited width through the railroad yards.

Business Men Urge Move. Representatives of the South Central Business Men's association attended the meeting. They urged the committee to act on the plan that property values in their district have remained virtually stationary for forty years because there are no new streets there.

Chairman Kaindl also appointed a subcommittee of five aldermen to investigate why the Chicago Surface Lines have not relocated their tracks to the center of 22d street between Michigan and Archer avenues. An ordinance calling upon the Surface Lines to move the tracks was passed by the council several years ago.

LONDON NAVAL CRISIS SOLVED, BRIAND REPORTS

Frenchman Makes Secret Deal with MacDonald.

fort toward a five power treaty when Premier Tardieu of France arrives in London next Saturday. If that effort fails, the Americans and British will ask the Japanese to join in a three power treaty, the principal articles of which, it is learned, have already been drafted.

Prepare for Showdown.

The luncheon discussion lasted until 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A half hour later Mr. Stimson, accompanied by Ambassador Morrow and Commander Harold G. Train, American naval expert, met with Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Alexander and Capt. Roger Bellairs, British naval experts, in St. James's palace, where tonnage allocations were discussed for two hours more.

This study of figures is understood to be in preparation for a grand showdown with Premier Tardieu on Sunday. Mr. Tardieu is to be pressed to scale down his tonnage demands by more than 100,000 tons. If he will bring his total navy tonnage demands down to the neighborhood of 500,000 tons the British will be able to join in a five power treaty without exceeding his cruiser tonnage as specified in the Rapallo agreement.

Awful Word from Tokyo.

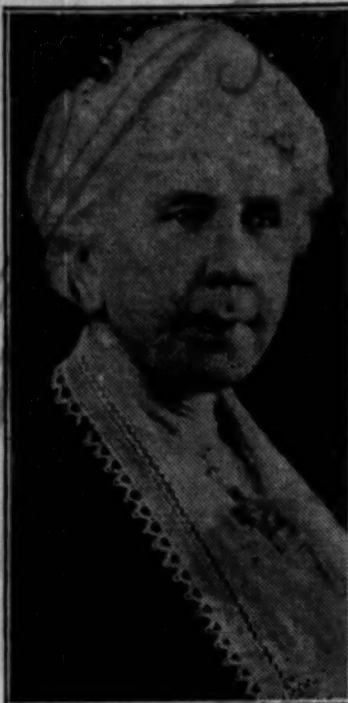

The fate of the settlement with Japan now rests with Tokyo. The American delegates insist that they will make no further concessions to Japan. The Japanese admiralty is reported to be against acceptance of the settlement on the ground that while it accords Japan 72 per cent of the American big cruiser tonnage during the life of the treaty, it grants only 60 per cent of the tonnage of the 18 big cruisers America is to be allowed to build eventually. The American delegates are opposed to yielding further to Japan, declaring that ratification of the treaty by Japan is allowed even one more inch gun cruiser than she now possesses, either built or building. The British are also strongly opposed to allowing Japan to increase her big cruiser strength.

WILL NOT APPEAL TO DUCE

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) LONDON, March 19.—The agreement between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Tardieu of France at Chequers last Sunday to appeal to Premier Mussolini through their ambassadors at Rome to drop Italy's demand for parity with France, thus going over Dino Grandi's head, has been rescinded and given an official denial.

Two stories are given as the reason for this, and probably both of them are more or less true. One is that Mr. MacDonald had promised in writing to support Italy's claim of parity with France and Sir Grandi threatened to publish the whole correspondence if a direct appeal was made to Rome.

The other story is that British foreign office officials pointed out that it was an unheard of discourtesy to go over the head of Sir Grandi, who is not only the chief of Italy's delegation but also the Italian foreign minister. Also such an act was probably only inviting a snub from Il Duce.

Fascists Insist on Parity. (Chicago Tribune Press Service.) ROME, March 19.—Italy's refusal to depart from its demand for parity with France under pressure of the other powers at the London conference, was endorsed tonight by the fascist grand council, the prime organ of Premier Mussolini's government.

Queen Marie Abandons Plan for Tour of Palestine

TRIBUNE'S NEW PRESSES SOON TO BE RUNNING

Will Speed Up Production 90,000 Papers an Hour

New high speed presses which will increase The Tribune's printing capacity 90,000 complete papers an hour are practically ready for delivery. It was announced yesterday. They will be installed in this newspaper's pressroom extension, just north of Tribune Tower on Michigan boulevard, within the next few weeks.

The new presses were built to fill a demand brought about by increased circulation and a necessity for top speed in delivery. Their installation is part of The Tribune's determination to continue its program of expansion despite talk of business depression.

Special Foundations Laid. Final work on assembling the new presses is being done at the plant of the Goss Printing Press company in Chicago. The installation will consist of sixteen units and three double folders. Special foundations have been provided to make sure that the roar of the huge presses will not be an annoyance in offices and stores of the Tower.

Designing of the new type Goss presses came about through suggestions made in The Tribune organization. Each of the new units is designed to operate at a speed 65 per cent greater than The Tribune presses now in use. If necessary, each press combination may be tuned up to print 60,000 newspapers per hour.

New Features of Presses.

The new presses are a departure from the present type in that they are unusually heavy and compact. They are equipped with roller bearings all around and with solid steel cylinders. A new feature is a synchronized individual motor drive for each unit and each folder. This will permit the printing of large editions at high speeds.

Operation of the presses has been made easier by the lowering of the plate cylinders and the placing of the ink adjustment in a handy location. The oiling also has been made simpler. Orders are for the installation to proceed as fast as possible until it is completed.

Council Asks Feed Bus System for 103d Street

An order for the installation of feeder buses on 103d street between Vincennes and Western avenues was adopted by the city council yesterday at the request of Ald. O. E. Northrup (19th). Three buses, purchased by the south side surface lines several months ago, will be used as an auxiliary to the street car service with a charge of seven cents and transfer privileges to the surface lines.

LAST VICTORIAN STATESMAN GONE AS BALFOUR DIES

Aristocrat by Birth, Was Democrat in Habits.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)

LONDON, March 19.—The death today of Arthur James Balfour, first earl of Balfour and Viscount Balfour of Whittingehame, removes from the scene one of the last of the great Victorian statesmen. He was the last surviving minister of Queen Victoria, but so keen was his intellect and so persistent his youth that until his final retirement a year ago he was regarded in Great Britain as a modern statesman, even among the ranks of the young and active politicians.

He was always considered a type of British aristocrat and as the leader of the Conservative party stood for all that British aristocracy is supposed to contain. At the same time he was one of the most democratic men, and acted with all classes on terms of equality. His only test for a friend or even a dinner companion was that he be interesting.

Followed U. S. Affairs.
Writers during the war and post-war years were thrown into frequent contact with him, and were always struck by his almost encyclopedic knowledge. For instance, he knew as well as most Americans the politics and ownership of the great American newspapers and was familiar with American political questions and personalities.

At twenty-five, in 1874, Balfour entered the house of commons. He had become a recognized scholar at Eton and Cambridge, but appeared to lean more to the religious and philosophical than to the practical and political side of life.

In 1885 Balfour became chief secretary for Ireland. Ireland was in a state of chaos. The "reign of terror" was in full force. Balfour suppressed the disorders by abolishing the "coercion" which was popularly regarded as a reward for his success at the Washington disarmament conference was really regarded by him and his friends as a degradation.

The reason for this was that Lord Balfour was a house of commons man. He loved the commons, which he entered in 1874, when 26 years old, and self accepted the peerage when it became apparent that he was too old and perhaps too out of touch with post-war political methods to fight in the elections and take part in the hurly-burly of the commons.

Was of Noble Descent.
His descent, however, was aristocratic and his veins flowed some of the most renowned blood of Scotland and England. This, perhaps, helped to make him the enigma he sometimes was in politics, where at times he exhibited Caledonian tenacity and at others the more moderate traits of his English descent.

He was born on July 25, 1848, the son of a wealthy Scottish laird, ruler of some 10,000 acres, who had married Lady Blanche Gascoigne Cecil, daughter of the second marquess of Salisbury, himself grandson of the sixth earl. The earliest recorded Balfour was a certain Edward, who met his death at the hands of Macbeth, hero of Shakespeare's tragedy.

Through his mother Earl Balfour descended from Lord Burghley, the celebrated lord treasurer of Queen Elizabeth, who became an earl in 1570. Lord Burghley had two sons; the eldest founded the Exeter or elder Cecil line and the youngest the Salisbury or cadet Cecil line, from which Lord Balfour's mother was descended.

The name of Salisbury itself was enough to make young Balfour feel aristocratic. There were earls of Salisbury from the time of Stephen in the 12th century, but the title went under several temporary extinctions. The third earl in the second line was beheaded in 1400; Richard Nevill, a Percy, first earl of the next line, was also beheaded; his successor, also earl of Warwick, was slain at the battle of Barnet in 1471. King Richard III. was once earl of Salisbury. The next line after him was in the Countess's court.

Margaret, daughter of the duke of Clarence, but she, too, was beheaded.

Lord Balfour's end was as graceful as his life. About a year ago he quietly dropped out of public life. Last year he spent at the Surrey home of his brother, Gerald, holding little if any communion with the outside world.

The house of commons adjourned immediately after assembling today in respect to Lord Balfour's memory, after a short statement by Prime Minister MacDonald, Stanley Baldwin, and Sir John Simon. Tomorrow eulogies will be pronounced in the house of commons. In accordance with his own wish, he will be buried at his Scottish home at Whittingehame on Saturday. There will be a memorial service at Westminster abbey.

DOCTORS SAY THIS IS BEST KIND OF BRAN

93% of Group of Physicians
Favor Natural 100% Bran
for Constipation

Ten thousand doctors were recently asked this question:

"Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes." Here is expert advice for the relief of one of the worst troubles of modern life. Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away. The overwhelming opinion of these doctors recommends Pillsbury's Bran as the best kind for the relief of atonic constipation—irregularity which results from bowel sluggishness.

Don't trifle with constipation. Medical science says that 90% of modern city people are more or less affected. Headaches, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, and increased susceptibility to serious disease—these are the dangers. Add roughage to your diet—it's protected primitive man, and it will protect you.

Pillsbury's Bran is the best form—it gives you the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes of pure bran. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cakes, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you take it, you may be sure Pillsbury's Bran will do the work—it is natural 100% bran, the kind that doctors recommend.

ENVOY'S CRASH REVIVES WAR ON IMMUNITY LAW

Victim of Accident Near Death in Capital.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—(AP)—With a young man near death as the result of collision with a foreign diplomat's automobile and with Senator McKellar (Dem., Tenn.) calling upon congress to abolish diplomatic immunity to traffic regulations, the state department today became seriously concerned again with the immunity problem.

An accident between autos driven by Commander Juan Polich, naval attaché of the Chilean embassy, and Paul Edward Hammond, 22, a railroad clerk, two days ago, since which Hammond has been only partially conscious, precipitated the latest controversy.

Offers Financial Aid. Commander Polich has offered financial assistance and his personal regrets to Hammond's family. J. R. Hightman, father-in-law of the injured youth, said the family felt "no animosity" toward the diplomat and knew he was genuinely sorry for the accident. He held the crash to have been Polich's fault.

Senator McKellar, introducing his resolution against immunity, declared diplomats "ought to ask to be treated just like American citizens," adding he believed most foreign representatives in Washington would approve his bill. The question of diplomatic immunity from traffic laws has frequently been prominent in Washington, where 55 diplomatic missions, with more than 500 members, are established.

List Made Public. Nine months ago, Senator Caraway (Dem., Ark.) obtained from the police a list of diplomats who had been warned for traffic law violations. The list, made public amid much furor, showed 37 such cases over a period of 13 years. The offenses included driving while intoxicated, colliding, speeding, and wrong parking.

The most famous automobile case involving diplomatic immunity occurred in September, 1926, when a car driven by Mrs. Margaret Hume Entenman, an American, wife of the third secretary of the Persian legation, fatally injured Thomas J. Cadell, 77. A coroner's jury held Mrs. Entenman to be responsible, but her plea of diplomatic immunity saved her from arrest. The Persian government immediately recalled her husband to Teheran, Persia.

MAN, 80, ENDS OWN LIFE. Charles Becker, 80 years old, of Wheeling, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the heart at the home of his son, Alvin, with whom he lived. The son said Becker was dependent over ill health.

HUSTON EXPLAINS $36,100 "GIFT" AT LOBBY QUIZ

to Shoals Group.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Washington, D. C., March 19.—(Special.)—Clausius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, today produced canceled checks to prove to the senate's lobby investigators that the much discussed $36,100 contributed through him by the Union Carbide company to the Tennessee River Improvement association, a Muscle Shoals lobby, reached the latter organization.

While, as indicated in records submitted by C. A. Krickl, a member of Blyth & Bonner, New York, stock brokers, the carbide company checks, one for $22,000 and one for $14,100, were deposited to Huston's credit in marginal trading accounts, Huston's checks showed an equal amount was paid over to the improvement association in installments over a period of a few months.

Handled It His Own Way. "I have always handled my personal business in my own way and I expect to continue to do so," declared Huston hotly when the senators, refusing to agree the transaction was in effect putting money in one pocket and paying out of another, insisted upon having his reason for depositing the carbide company's checks with the brokers instead of depositing them in a bank or endorsing them over to the association.

Huston, until his election to the Republican national committee post in August, 1929, was president of the Tennessee River Improvement association, which has actively espoused legislation providing for acceptance of the American Cyanamid company's bid for a lease at Muscle Shoals.

Records Are Shown. In response to a subpoena issued yesterday over the protest of Senator A. R. Robinson (Rep., Ind.), the only regular Republican member of the investigating committee, Krickl appeared today with records of the stock trading accounts of W. E. Moore, Huston's personal financial agent, in whose name the carbide company checks were deposited on March 9, 1929.

SQUAW ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF ARTIST'S WIFE

Buffalo, N. Y., March 19.—(AP)—Moving with rapidity, the state today placed Lila Jimeron, Seneca Indian woman, on trial for murder thirteen days after the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, artist's wife.

The close of the first day's session of the trial found two jurors in the box. The prosecution charges Nancy Bowen, aged squaw, actually killed the wife of Henri Marchand, Buffalo Museum of Science sculptor and artist of Indian life, and that the crime was instigated by Lila Jimeron, who had become infatuated with Marchand.

CUBAN WORKERS START BIG STRIKE CALLED BY RUSSIA

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) HAVANA, March 20.—The nationwide 24 hour strike ordered by the Third International at Moscow began in Havana at midnight when linotype operators, printers, and pressmen on De la Marina, one of Cuba's largest Spanish newspapers, walked out after two hours' work. The strike was called as a national protest against unemployment and the recent suppression of the Cuban Federation of Labor and the arrest of five labor leaders.

Among the organizations which struck were the street car men, stevedores, newspaper workers, tobacco workers, bakers, ice manufacturers, brewers, taxi drivers, waiters, and bartenders. The railway brotherhood announced its members are not in favor of the strike and will not walk out.

Gen. Delgado, secretary of the interior, ordered all police and military forces confined to their barracks for immediate duty.

Hurl Bomb at Church Rite in Honor of Gen. Pilsudski

WARSAW, March 19.—(AP)—A small bomb was exploded today in an Ukrainian church at Lwow, where services were being held in honor of the same day of Gen. Joseph Pilsudski, former prime minister. The congregation was thrown into a panic but nobody was seriously injured. Several arrests were made.

OIL-O-MATIC

costing less per gallon
yet giving more heat!

THOUSANDS of owners of these toughly modern homes in Chicago say the comfort and convenience of Williams Oil-O-Matic heating actually costs little more per year—if as much—as old-fashioned, wasteful hand shoveling coal!

The reason for this surprising economy of Oil-O-Matic heating is Williams use of low cost fuel oil. Fuel oil costs less per gallon yet gives more heat than lighter grades of oil. Government tests show oil heating costs can be reduced as much as 30% by using fuel oil. Other burners, lacking patented and exclusive Williams features, are forced to burn more expensive grades of oil.

Low first cost and low operating cost are only two of many reasons why Williams Oil-O-Matic heats far more homes than any other burner. Williams thermostatic control turns the burner on and off. Even during this changeable March weather an even, healthful temperature is maintained. There can be no fuel wasted by dangerous overheating.

Why continue paying more money for the back-breaking privilege of shoveling coal and carrying ashes when an economical Oil-O-Matic Model J—or the lower priced new Oil-O-Matic Junior—can be quickly installed in your present furnace. Get all details here today.

SENATE DEFEATS CRUDE OIL DUTY; LOBBY DEBATED

Investigators Accused of Abusing Citizens.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—(Special.)—For a second time the senate today defeated proposals to impose duties on crude oil and its products. An amendment by Senator Elmer Thomas (Dem., Okla.), providing duties of $1 per barrel on crude oil and 10 per cent on gasoline and other products, was rejected by a vote of 29 to 14. The result was but little different from the recent adverse vote of 21 to 23. An amendment by Senator W. R. Pine (Rep., Okla.) for duties of 10 cents per barrel on crude oil and 25 per cent on its products was defeated by a vote of 25 to 23.

The action followed an all afternoon debate centering around the treatment of the lobby of independent oil producers by the senatorial committee. A defense of the oil lobby by Senator Thomas brought sharp replies from Senators T. H. Caraway (Dem., Ark.), Thomas J. Walsh (Dem., Mont.), and John G. Blaine (Rep., Wis.), members of the lobby committee.

Robinson and Norris Clash.
Senator Arthur Robinson (Rep., Ind.), also a member of the lobby committee, who ventured to criticize some of the methods of his colleagues, was denounced by Senator George W. Norris (Rep., Neb.) as offering the same sort of defense that has been made for Sinclair and Doheny.

In the vote on the Thomas amendment 11 Republicans and 8 Democrats voted in the affirmative, while 18 Republicans and 20 Democrats were recorded in the negative. Of members from central states Senators Otis F. Glenn (Rep., Ill.) and James E. Walsh (Rep., Ind.) were paired in favor of a duty. Senator Robinson and Senators Robert M. La Follette and Malone (Rep., Wis.), James Coussens, and A. H. Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.), and Daniel Stack (Dem., Ia.) voted against the duty, while Senator S. W. Brookhart (Rep., Ia.) was paired against it.

The adverse vote definitely disposed of the controversy over all duties. The house bill retained crude oil and its products on the free list in the present law.

Claims Rights Abridged.

Senator Thomas with much indignation denounced the attack upon the oil lobby by the Caraway committee. "Citizens," he said, "exercising their rights to petition their government—a right guaranteed by the first amendment—are to have their homes raided, their papers and effects seized and themselves summoned and tried on a charge of lobbying, then the citizens will, through fear, cease to come to the nation's capitol and, to the extent they are thus intimidated, the right of petition will be thereby abridged and denied."

Senator Caraway, justifying the work of the lobby investigating committee, said that his purpose had been "to make lobbying odious."

"Men who are perfectly willing to get together and put their money with somebody else's money and try to control government, whether it is legislative or executive," said Senator Caraway, "are devoid of that finer sense of honor that men ought to have; and there is no difference between the man who comes here with his money and wants to buy legislation, whether he does it or not, and Sinclair or Doheny, not a bit."

Senator Walsh denied that the lobby committee had invaded the privacy of the home, that it had "raided" offices, that it had "maligned" innocent citizens, and that it had dealt with any one side of tariff controversies.

The senate earlier in the day, by a vote of 42 to 37, adopted an amendment by Senator Cole Hesse (Dem., N. C.) for importation free of duty of cement used in public works construction. This modified the recent action imposing a duty of 6 cents per 100 pounds on cement.

The senate by vote of 55 to 12 tonight adopted an amendment by Senator Key Pittman (Dem., Nev.) imposing a duty of 30 cents per ounce on the silver content of silver bearing ore.

POPE OPENS WAR OF PRAYER ON GODLESS RUSSIA

50,000 Attend Crusade Mass at Vatican.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, March 19.—Pope Pius XI. opened his crusade of prayer against Russian religious persecution in St. Peter's cathedral this morning before a crowd estimated at 50,000. Similar services were held in every Catholic church throughout the world and in some Protestant churches.

Every square foot of floor space of the gigantic cathedral was packed with persons who had procured special entry cards, while thousands more sought entrance. At the same time the prayers were said in Russian in other churches in Rome "in expiation and reparation of the profanations and atrocious offenses" consummated in Russia.

Collect Funds at Services.
The ceremonies today were in response to a letter from the pope Feb. 2 calling attention to the alleged Russian sacrileges of closing the churches, interfering with priests, and the suppression of the practice of Christianity in Russia. The pope appealed to the conscience of the entire Christian world to devote a day to prayer for better conditions in Russia.

In addition to the prayers and masses today, collections were taken up in St. Peter's and other Roman churches, which will be used to aid the propagation of Catholicism in Russia. To the Catholics who made special prayers today the pope extended special jubilee indulgences.

Eighteen cardinals, in addition to a great concourse of high prelates, members of the Roman patriarchy and relatives of the pope, attended the mass at which the pontiff personally officiated, assisted at the altar by Cardinal Gasparri. Mass was said under the cathedral dome, just over St. Peter's tomb.

Many Diplomats Present.
Many members of diplomatic corps, accredited at the Vatican, were present, but it was announced they were not officially present under last minute instructions from their governments because of possible diplomatic embarrassments.

Borne on his pontifical sedia gestatoria and preceded by the Swiss guards, the pope made his entry into St. Peter's heralded by a blast of silver trumpets. The ceremonies were more subdued today because of the pestilential nature, the pope, leaving off his tiara and wearing only a red mozzetta. The pontiff's passage was hailed with enthusiastic huzzas.

During mass the choir of alumni sang Latin liturgies and afterwards special prayers and litanies addressed to the saints, who are looked upon as special protectors of Russia. Prayers were also addressed to St. Theresa of the infant Jesus whom the pope has constituted the special patron saint of Russia.

Russia Attacks Pope.
MOSCOW, March 19.—(AP)—Coinciding with religious services abroad for the welfare of Russia's millions of Christians, soviet workers and athletes groups participated in anti-religious meetings and demonstrations in various parts of the soviet union today.

At the same time several thousand members of the Society of Militant Atheists were preparing for the opening of the anti-God congress tomorrow. Tonight many thousands of anti-religiousists will conduct an attack against the pope at the Moscow planetarium.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Washington, D. C., March 19.—(AP)—The revised Williamson bill to create a new veterans' administrator, under whom all governmental agencies dealing with war veterans would be consolidated, was approved today by the house expenditures committee.

Investigation of the federal narcotic bureau by a house committee was proposed in a resolution by Representative Black (Dem., N. Y.), who said that the bureau "has fallen down as a barrier against the illegal distribution of drugs."

Consideration of the Porter resolution to appropriate $300,000 for completing restoration of the frigate Constitution was blocked in the house by Representative Schaefer (Rep., Wis.), who protested against the passage of such measures "while it is impossible to get appropriations for badly needed additions to veterans' hospitals."

Facing by red painted anti-religious slogans in ten foot letters. This defacement was impartially inflicted on Catholic and Protestant churches alike. Communists are suspected. St. Sebastian's church in north Berlin was defaced around the entire edifice. The Lutheran church of the Holy Savior, which possesses the only electric church sign in Berlin, found nothing but the sign's framework. Rocks had obliterated the Bible verse, "Through His wounds we are healed," which had glowed from the church front.

444 N. Y. Churches Say Mass.
New York, March 19.—(AP)—In compliance with the request of Pope Pius XI, low masses were said in the 444 Roman Catholic churches of the archdiocese of New York today as a protest against the anti-religious movement in soviet Russia.

RUSSIA ON BRINK OF HUGE FAMINE, MOSCOW WARNED

Crisis in Fields, Not in Industry.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
RIGA, Latvia, March 19.—Former Deputy Commissioner of Finance Probrahenski, returned to Moscow from an extended tour of the provinces, has published a report in the Moscow Pravda, accusing government officials of Moscow of complete ignorance of recent happenings in the Russian villages.

Hinting that the autumn probably will bring famine, Probrahenski says the peasant is continuing his policy of passive resistance to the government's attempt to communize the countryside and that agriculture in Russia is facing a crisis more serious than the numerous chronic crises affecting industry. He admits that nobody knows how many cattle are left in Russia, how much land will be cultivated this spring, and what the prospects are for feeding the city population during the winter.

Stages a Comeback.
Probrahenski, a member of Lenin's old guard, occupied important posts in the commissariat of education and finance before being expelled from the party in 1927 for his lack of knowledge of the peasant question and for opposing Dictator Joseph V. Stalin's policies.

Today the deputy is making a comeback, posing as an authority on the peasant problem and urging the Communist party to immediately gather accurate information regarding agriculture before making more plans. He points out that the steady reduction in the nation's urban inhabitants is the best indication that, despite their plans, foodstuffs is growing scarcer monthly and immediate action is necessary to avert a catastrophe.

Vodka Gets Rail Preference.

The word catastrophe is appearing daily several times in the headlines of all soviet papers. The condition of the railroads is catastrophic, reports Economic Life, announcing that, despite strict orders from the government, the vodka trust is able to get all the freight cars needed, while deliveries of seed grain and agricultural instruments are sidetracked.

The plan to enlarge spring sowing faces a catastrophe, according to the Pravda, reporting that the peasants are panic-stricken by the government's liquidation of 14,000,000 individual farms. Forty-five per cent of the peasants as yet unaffected by the Communist party's latest war against the village, are unwilling to cultivate, fearing the liquidation of their farms and confiscation of crops.

Crop Outlook Gloomy.

The 105,000 collective farms just organized into communist brigades are facing a catastrophe, according to the Pravda, which now admits that less than five per cent are being managed by capable agriculturists and the outlook for a good crop is faint. The Pravda also uses the word "catastrophe" in describing the meat supply, reporting that, instead of eleven meatless days, the city population may soon face meatless months unless the government's packing houses reform their methods, which entail long and distant transport of live stock without food or water.

These long jumps cause them to lose weight before reaching the slaughter pens. Unless some means are devised to prevent the peasants from slaughtering animals in order to avoid paying excessive taxes, the cities face a further menace.

AMERICANS OPEN RUSSIA'S FIRST WATCH FACTORY

MOSCOW, March 19.—(AP)—Twenty-four skilled American watchmakers, formerly employed by the Duber Hampden work at Canton, O., arrived here today. They will establish the first watch factory in Russia and will try to teach their art to the natives. The men came here under a one-year renewable contract with the government. Watchmaking machinery filling 22 freight cars is en route to this city. The men will work on a guild system, something like that which prevailed in the middle ages. The government also announced it had acquired control of an American factory manufacturing dollar watches. It was declared the soviet hoped to produce one million cheap watches and 200,000 full jewel timepieces annually.

CASHIER DEAD IN VAULT; NO GUARD; BANK CASH GONE

North Dakota Town Has Mystery Tragedy.

Courtesy, N. D., March 19.—(AP)—Shot through the heart from behind, the body of Elmer Bunkowski, 32 year old assistant cashier of the First National bank of Courtenay, was found in the vault today while $5,000 of the bank's money was missing.

Although handprints were found, an element of mystery was injected into the slaying by the fact that no one could be found who had seen any suspicious characters about the bank.

Bunkowski was the only employee in the bank when the shooting occurred.

Lying in the vault, Bunkowski's body was found by R. H. Milne, president of the bank, after a customer had advised him that the bank apparently was burglarized.

Two strangers were seen.

Milne said the assistant cashier apparently had been shot from close range, as there were powder burns on his clothing. There was no sign of a struggle, which brought one theory from officers that Bunkowski may have known the slayer, who shot to prevent disclosure of his identity.

Another theory was that two strangers seen here today may have done the shooting. One report said two men had been seen speeding eastward from the town shortly after noon.

Robert Turner, elevator manager, said he entered the place about 1:30 p. m. and waited about 20 minutes before notifying Milne that the bank was open with no one in sight. Milne said it was about 2 o'clock when he investigated and found Bunkowski's body.

All the currency in the bank was missing, Milne said, but a large amount of silver was left.

Rob Bank at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 19.—(AP)—Four men today held up a branch of the Corn Exchange National Bank and Trust company at 2316 Orthodox street, in the Frankford section, tied the assistant manager and a woman employee with rubber bands, and escaped with approximately $10,000.

LAUD BUNDESEN FOR CUTTING HIS ROLLS TO QUOTA

A vote of thanks was extended to Herman N. Bundesen yesterday by the county board for his reduction of his pay roll in conformity with the ten months' economy budget voted by the board in December. In the first quarter of the year the corner is the only county official to comply fully with the retrenchment order.

The commissioners themselves set an example by spending only $27,525 of their allotment of $30,295 for the period. Coroner Bundesen was the only department head to follow their lead. He spent but $24,725 of his allotment of $25,574. Other officials announced that they are taking steps to insure themselves against being paid by employees for the extra two months of the year. They are asking liability waivers.

The city council yesterday voted to give all policemen two weeks vacation with pay, this summer.

U. S. ARMY READY TO BUY 6 LIGHT COMBAT TANKS

Washington, D. C., March 19.—(AP)—Bids for the construction of six light combat tanks, the first modern fighting vehicles to be acquired by the army for actual service since world war days, will be asked by the war department within the next few days.

The new machines will be of the Christie combined track laying and wheel type. The specifications call for vehicles capable of traveling over hard roads on rubber tires at about 40 miles an hour. On caterpillar tracks the vehicles are expected to make about 30 miles an hour.

A fighting turret in which will be mounted a 37 millimeter semi-automatic weapon, capable of firing a report of 40 one pound projectiles per minute and a 30 caliber machine gun has been designed by the Ordnance department.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyous cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, a healing, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No griping or "sketches" of these light-colored, dissolving tablets. They ease the bowels and liver and act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" or a "black tongue" or a "black stool," you should take quick, sure and safe relief from Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to get clear. Try them. 15c, 50c, 90c.

Nepal Invades Tibet

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
SHANGHAI, March 19.—The Chinese government today issued another report dealing with the crisis between Tibet and Nepal. The latter is a dependency of Great Britain and is located in northern India. The Chinese report, which has been issued through the official KuoMin news agency, alleged that a Nepalese army of more than 50,000 troops equipped with modern war implements has entered Tibet by two separate routes.

As a result of this invasion of the Tibetan territory both the Dalai and Panchen Lamas, spiritual leaders of the Tibetans, are actively urging the Chinese to dispatch three divisions of troops to Tibet in order to help the Tibetans fight the invaders.

The Panchen Lama, who is now in Mukden, stated that he is hurrying to Nanking to interview President Chiang Kai-shek while the Tibetan and Mongolian bureaus in Nanking are also urging the Nationalist government to lodge a protest with the British government so as to call off the Nepalese advance.

EX-PROFESSOR IS SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR PERJURY

Joseph M. Synnendahl, former professor of mathematics and astronomy at Loyola university, yesterday was sentenced to five days in the county jail for perjury by Superior Judge Gentzel.

The sentence was the outgrowth of the divorce action brought by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Kemmer Synnendahl, 2515 Westwood avenue, who charged cruelty. The judge at a previous hearing said he would jail either the husband or the wife if he could determine which of them was lying in his court.

Mrs. Synnendahl charged that her husband took her clothes and diamonds from their home when they separated last Dec. 18. Synnendahl denied knowledge of the articles. The judge ordered a search of his home at 11233 Wallace street. The search was made by the principals and their attorneys and C. J. Larson, a private detective.

Yesterday Larson testified that he overheard Synnendahl telling his wife that he would return the clothes if she dropped her action for divorce on charges of cruelty. The wife supported the story, adding that her husband had said that he sent the clothing to his uncle in Iowa.

"This is the most flagrant and rank perjury that I have ever encountered," the judge said as he imposed a sentence of 30 days. Attorney Thomas A. Green succeeded in having the sentence cut to five days.

DEFENSE RESTS IN DOHENY CASE; ARGUMENT NEXT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., March 19.—(Special.)—With the evidence in the trial of E. L. Doheny, multi-millionaire California oil man, completed, prospects tonight are that the last of the Harding administration oil scandal cases will be given to the jury early Friday afternoon.

Six hours of closing argument by opposing counsel and the court's charge remain to be decided whether the $100,000 passed by Doheny to A. B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, was a bribe to secure the famous Elk Hills, Cal., naval oil reserve lease for a Doheny company, or merely an innocent loan to a lifelong friend.

Chief Defense Counsel F. J. Hogan, resting his case with eloquent tributes to Doheny's reputation for patriotism and honesty by half a dozen character witnesses, renewed his motion for a directed acquittal verdict. The motion, based on Hogan's contention that while the indictment charges Doheny "delivered" the $100,000 to Fall, the government's evidence shows he "caused it to be delivered" was promptly overruled by Justice William Hitz.

100 HURT IN RIOT AT SEDITION TRIAL OF GANDHI AID

RANGOON, Burma, March 19.—(AP)—More than 100 persons were injured today at a disturbance outside the courtroom where Dr. B. N. Sengupta, mayor of Calcutta, was being tried for sedition growing out of utterances made in support of Mahatma Gandhi's campaign of civil disobedience. Thirty police were among those injured.

Gandhi Aids Gets Jail Term

BOMBAY, India, March 19.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi today replied to the government's arrest of his lieutenant, Vallabhai Patel, for making a speech at Raas by himself delivering a public address there. No effort was made to arrest Gandhi, although a prohibitory order against Nationalist speeches had been issued to run for a month, beginning March 7. Gandhi urged the town to send 500 volunteers for the civil disobedience campaign.

BALFOUR.

Arthur Balfour, dead at 82, had about everything that an aristocrat of the governing class would ask life to give him: intellectual enjoyment and scholarship, position and achievement, long years and an old age with an active body and active mind almost to the end, in the pleasant land which England can be for people placed to enjoy its life.

There may be, at least, the shadow of a doubt whether the aristocratic government in the tradition of which Balfour lived and worked deserves all the acclaim commonly granted it. The scope of the British empire and the power of Great Britain, maintained through so many conflicts, offer the evidence to its credit. The condition of the English people and the fact that they have a Labor government may argue for its faults.

Great Britain produced its statesmen for the empire but its policies must seem blank as to the average man at home. A dominant class will protect itself. An aristocracy may govern well for the permanence of empire, but so will it for the permanence of itself.

Balfour was a nephew of Lord Salisbury. Salisbury was a pattern of aristocratic government, skeptical of democracy. To him the cause of the southern states with aristocratic leadership seemed inviolable. It was instinctive in him to believe that Lee must prevail by the inherent virtue of caste government and that the north must fail because of its innate weakness. It was such sentiment expressed also in Gladstone, Russell and others which made the neutrality of Great Britain uncertain until Lincoln found a way to reach the average man in England.

These aristocratic misconceptions of democratic needs and values, these preoccupations with caste and ancient privilege, may be reflected injuriously in English economic and social conditions today. The system at least served Balfour's time and he was a servicable product of it for British diplomacy. He did not increase its faults. He improved some of its virtues.

It is said that he regarded the results of the Washington conference as the greatest achievement of his life. It brought him an earldom. Americans who regret that these results were so actively satisfactory to the British have not been critical of Balfour. He accepted what was offered him, concealed his amazement and amiably made as little return as possible. It might have been wiser to have made the bargain one in which the United States could have found more compensation, but Balfour's devotion to his particular trust and his concentration on it were what Americans would like to find in their own representatives.

There has been every evidence that the American people liked and respected Balfour in his various contacts with them. He got what he wanted and preserved good will. Diplomacy cannot ask for much more. His order may or may not be passing. Some of its merits could be made good use of here where its faults would be unendurable.

PAVING THE CAR LINES.

One of the questions which has arisen to complicate the drafting of a new street car franchise concerns the paving of the surface lines' right of way. Under the 1919 ordinance the companies are required to pave this area and clean and maintain it. Spokesmen for the companies now wish to transfer these charges to the city, and it has been admitted that there is a good deal to be said for their contention.

The car companies have no more need of pavement than the rails than has a railroad company. The pavement is there for the benefit of other users of the streets and might be charged to the community as a whole rather than to the companies. If this reasoning is followed there is no justification, either, for requiring the companies to maintain the pavements in good repair. The requirement that the companies clean their rights of way is a survival from the days of horse cars. It has little meaning in the age of automobiles.

All this may be admitted, but as a matter of expediency the obligations of the 1917 ordinance should be continued. Chicago's last significant expansion was made possible by the fact that the new car lines, with their superior pavements, offered convenient avenues for getting about the city. The new pavements were laid just when the automobile and the automobile traffic were coming into general use. Without the street car pavements it is doubtful if the automobile could have made so rapid a conquest. Even today the car lines, by and large, have no rivals for automobile traffic except the boulevards, and these are closed to trucks.

The question comes down to this: Shall the street car lines be paved by the people of Chicago through their taxes paid over to politicians or through their taxes paid to the street car company? Trusting the duty to the companies will not, as demagogues pretend, spare the public the necessity of paying for the pavements; but it should assure the laying of good pavements at fair prices. To that extent it will provide at least a certain number of well paved streets, stretching into all neighborhoods. The advantage which the city gained from the 1917 requirement is still a substantial one and as a matter of prudence should be retained.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT RETURNING.

The debate in the senate on censorship was marked, we think significantly, by rather more candor and intelligence than might have been expected. We say this without cynicism, because a frank and enlightened opinion upon questions involving moral taboos, standards or distinctions has especially in recent years been subject not merely to the frowns of Mrs. Gurney but to the whip of organized bigotry. Men in public life naturally avoided the unpleasant consequences of avoidable candor and generally speaking there has been in the last two or three decades an increase of intolerance and a decrease of freedom of utterance. Prohibition propaganda has been most active in the use of the odium theologium and has suppressed much protest against the prohibition experiment by charging that it is the voice of immorality. By accusing of evil motive and evil character all who dissented from any proposition or proposal put forth in the name of righteousness and resistance to the infringement of private right and free conscience has been slow to appear.

This is not to the credit of this generation of Americans. We have reverted in the 30th century in some measure to the 17th. Then our forbears were engaged in a battle for freedom of conscience and freedom of utterance. The tyranny of absolute monarchy and later the tyranny of religious bigotry wrote the darkest pages in the history of the English speaking people, but they laid the foundations of the system of ordered liberty which is our heritage. The spirit of liberty triumphed. The 18th century prepared the ideas and principles, the philosophy of free government on which the American constitution and its system of civil liberty are founded. We are inheritors of that great struggle for the freedom of the human mind and conscience, and yet we have in this century suffered a strange reaction.

The great war had much to do with our demoralization. In its passions intolerance found a fertile field and we emerged from war with less regard for our American traditions and principles than our forefathers. The bigotry of the Ku Klux and the Anti-Saloon league and other organizations for making Americans moral by statute spread throughout the national community, and only lately has the older spirit of American tolerance and love of liberty begun to show itself. That this spirit will return to restore the wholesome-ness of American social character we cannot doubt. We have fallen away from the ideal of our great statesmen and philosophers, but not irretrievably. We are in another battle for light and freedom, for the right of the freeman to think and decide for himself, and the battle will be won. Intolerance and bigotry will give way to the true spirit of American life.

BARGE SERVICE UP THE ILLINOIS.

War department officials have announced that the government's barge service will be extended to the Illinois river and Chicago within the year, to the extent that the channel permits. The government has already appropriated for deepening the channel from the mouth of the Illinois at Grafton to the lowest of the locks at the Illinois waterway. As soon as the dredging is completed, and it should not take long, there is no reason why barges cannot come up at least to Peoria. Extension to Chicago must await the completion of the locks and dams between Lockport and Utica.

The promise of regular service to Peoria is encouraging. It means that the central states will have a demonstration of the benefits of modern river transport. The barges at Peoria will tap one of the nation's principal concentration points for railroad freight. Carbons moving by river can be transferred there to the railroads and vice versa with mutual advantage. Favorable results at Peoria will, needless to say, serve to convince doubtful congressmen of the far greater return which the nation may reap from the investment of only $5,000,000 in completing the channel to Chicago.

The certainty that regular barge service will soon be available to industries located on the Illinois should prove a stimulus to new industrial undertakings along the route. Some municipalities are already at work on plans for municipal barge landings. These may have a certain value, but it is of greater importance that the municipalities encourage private industry to build docks for themselves where they are wanted and of a type which the industries can best use.

Editorial of the Day

SENATOR GLENN'S SUGGESTION.

(Peoria, Ill., Transcript.)
Otis P. Glenn, junior United States senator of Illinois, calls President Hoover's attention to the fact that Illinois has not had a representative on the Supreme court for twenty years. It is said Senator Glenn will soon submit to the White House a list of Illinois eligibles for the Sanford vacancy. Obviously, justices of the Supreme court should not be chosen on territorial or political grounds, yet other things being equal, a larger recognition of the western states probably would serve to allay some of the prejudices against the court.

Since the foundation of the republic, Illinois has been represented only twice on the Supreme court. Mayville W. Fuller of Chicago, appointed in 1888, Illinois member was David Davis, who served as an associate justice from 1862 to 1877. Justice Fuller was born in Maine and died in Maine. He came to Chicago to practice his profession in 1854. After serving 15 years on the Supreme bench Justice Davis served one term as a United States senator from Illinois. He was born in Maryland and died in Washington, D. C.

New York has had two chief justices and eight associate justices. Ohio has had three chief justices—Chase, Walke and Taft—and five associate justices. Pennsylvania has had five associate justices. Of the western states, Iowa, Kentucky, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Wyoming and Utah each has had one associate justice. California has had two. Missouri, Indiana and Wisconsin never have been represented on the Supreme bench.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IF ANYBODY REALLY KNOWS—GO AHEAD—TELL US!

Dear, we were all set to help the return of prosperity by buying an automobile and we announced the fact yesterday morning. And right away an automobile agent called up and said he would sell us a Glissard Six. And we told him that we wanted to buy the best automobile in the market and he said it was. We told him to bring it around then and we would buy it and right away another automobile agent called up and said he represented the Doodlebug Automobile company. And we asked him what was the best car in the market and he said he would have to tell the truth no matter how much it hurt and that the Doodlebug was the very best car in the market.

And then ten more agents called up and each one said that his car was the best in the market. And they all represented ten different kinds of cars. That puts us right back to where we started. We want to buy the very best automobile to be had for the money. But here are twelve autos and each one is the very best. Each one of these agents is telling us the truth, because they said they were telling us the truth, might they be struck down dead on the very spot they were standing on if they weren't telling us the truth. And we didn't see in the afternoon papers anything about an automobile agent being struck down dead while he stood at the telephone, so we know that each one was telling us the truth. But that makes twelve cars and each one is the best in the market. But how can each one be the best in the market?

Of course, we want to help the return of prosperity. Everybody's to have a job by May 1, which is sixty days from March 8, when the announcement was made in Washington. Watch for it—May 1. And everybody can help prosperity come back by buying something. And we were going to buy an automobile. And look what happened. Somebody must be mistaken.

We told the agent of the Doodlebug car that the agent of the Glissard car said the Glissard Six was the best car in the market, and he did think so. "What!" he said, "that traveling junk pile! Don't make me laugh, I gotta see it." "Well," said we, "if the Glissard Six isn't the best car in the market, why did that bird tell us that? He wouldn't tell us an untruth, would he?" "Say," said the agent of the Doodlebug car, "that guy would lie rather than tell the truth. You couldn't believe him if he swore on a stack of Bibles fifty feet high. Listen to me. The Doodlebug is the best car in the market. Ask anybody!"

That was fair enough, so we asked the next agent that called us up if the Doodlebug wasn't the best car in the market and he shrieked: "What! The Doodlebug? Why, find a guy that's got a car and he'll sell it to you for a dollar and a quarter. Or he'll make you a present of the damn thing. Now, if you want a real car I've got it. It's the Ornithorynchus Eight, the best car on the market."

And there you are. We want to help Snowshoes Al and the rest of 'em get a job by buying an automobile. But which one is the best? Oh, well, we won't buy an auto today; we'll go out and buy a hat. That'll help some anyhow.

NOW THERE IS PEACE AGAIN.

Now there is peace again a little while. Now there is laughter and untroubled song; And a land lit where darkness lay so long; And wounds are healed, or hidden with a smile. Now are renewals of old ecstasies; Pierrot is the harlequin again; And sweethearts seek an old moon-bathed lane Where nights were never lovelier than these.

Yes, there is peace again, and never more (The old men having met and so decreed) Shall bugles blow their keen alarms of war. To stay a wrong, or serve a nation's greed. But young men strain, and laugh beneath their brows, When old men mince and foolishly mouth at Death.

MISS POLLY PRIM writes to us that she is simply disgusted that so many old gentlemen such as the senators of these United States sit around and read those wicked books that were barred from coming into the country. "I am so shocked I can hardly express myself," says Miss Prim. "What did you say the names of the books are and where I can get them?" We didn't say, Miss Prim, we didn't say. Ask your bookkeeper.

"IT'S SIMPLY A CRIME!" wrote Benso Bonardi on the same subject continued, "the price they ask for those books that the senate was reading. I wanted to buy one and they tried to soak me eighteen dollars for it. Eighteen dollars! Can you imagine that? Eighteen dollars! Think of a person so low, so lacking in any appreciation of refinement and culture who would actually give up eighteen dollars for one of those books. Why, eighteen dollars would buy three pints of good Canadian whisky!" Yes, yes, 'tis a strange world, a strange world!

LAGNIAPPE.

A DEAF MUTE was on trial in Chicago yesterday charged with driving his automobile at an unreasonable speed. But, anyhow, he wasn't blind; let us say walkers be thankful for that.

MAX MASON, who used to be president of Chi. U. and is now the head of the Rockefeller foundation, said in Seattle yesterday: "The time will come when university students will be so intent upon acquiring knowledge that it will be necessary for physicians to watch them and prevent them from studying too hard." Max could give the indelible honor of making the Line if he sent side-splitting things like that, or Life or London Punch would pay him a dollar apiece for 'em. Honest, Max, why waste 'em?

OUR DISTINGUISHED fellow citizen, Mr. A. Capone, still disappoints his public by remaining in a sequestered place and declining a triumphant entry into the city. In the great world outside they are waiting breathless for the story of how Alphonse rode down the Boulevard in a golden carriage drawn by twenty-four snow white horses while masked bands played the latest popular airs and the frenzied populace scattered roses and orchids in the street. We should not disappoint the great world outside our borders. Alphonse, come home.

TOBACCO—ah, tobacco! 'tis sprig! The old wedder mark forcible a coil wabs today. Oh, weel! Sprig wib tub tobacco today, weel! day the laubea ad the grab wib all be great ad the burbs wib sig in the drees! So subsume id is coil today! Sprig wib be bare soon.

ON "CURES" FOR CANCER.

R. C. F. GESCHICKTER lays down three rules which must be met before a cancer remedy can claim to be a cure. The first is that it must have cured cases proved to be cancer by a microscopic examination; second, after having been treated, the patient must have no tumor, he must be free from all symptoms of cancer, and he must have remained so for five years; third, the cancer must have given evidence of having spread to secondary locations before it was treated. He goes even further, saying that no alleged cancer cure should be tried out by any one except a cancer specialist, and nowhere except in a good hospital or institute, until it can meet these three requirements.

There are cancer cures that meet the first two requirements, but none that meets all three. On his basis the cancer cure is still a matter for discovery. The public would do well to disregard the claims of all cancer cures that fall short of the first two requirements. Were they to stand on these two, most of the pretended cancer cures that now prey on impoverished sick people would have to go out of business. At that, Dr. Geschickter is right. We must not take a microscopic view of cancer, but does not meet all three of his requirements.

The method of treatment for which scientists are searching is one that will cure late cancer as well as early. Science is at present unable to do this. It is a microbe, a virus, or something of that sort. What are the peculiarities of cancer cells? Do they make too much oxygen or too little? Do they require little or much of this element? Do they make little or much lactic acid, or sugar, or other cell product? Do they stain differently from other cells—that is, do the live cells stain differently? How much of a factor is irritation? How long must the irritation be continued? Should

DO NOT GET SODA HABIT.
Mrs. T. H. writes: Is it harmful to take ten grains of bicarbonate of soda three times a day?
It is unwise to take any drug habitually. Soda is a stimulant. However, ten grains three times a day is not much of a dose. Some people get that amount in breads and vegetables cooked with soda.

OVARIAN PREPARATION ADVISED.
Mrs. T. A. S. writes: One year ago I had a pelvic operation. Now I have periods six or seven times a month and suffer greatly from hot flashes. What can I do?
The proper use of one of the ovarian preparations will keep you comfortable.

COLENTZ.—Unconfirmed reports received here are to the effect that 1,000 persons have been killed in the Ruhr highway in Saxony and Westphalia. A Soviet republic has been proclaimed in Chemnitz and Pfauen. In the Ruhr basin the majority of Socialists have given an order to end strike, but it is doubtful if the communists will obey by the communists.

BERLIN.—Eisen surrendered to armed workers after violent fighting in which it is estimated that 300 persons were killed. Red forces equipped with 18,000 rifles and machine guns marched on Eisen from Dortmund, where they were met by loyal forces.

WASHINGTON.—The German peace treaty with its league of nations covenant failed of ratification in the senate. It lacked seven votes of the necessary two-thirds of the senators voting. It was then ordered returned to President Wilson with formal notification of the failure of the senate to consent to the pact be negotiated at Paris. After the vote Senator Knox moved to proceed to the consideration of his resolution declaring a state of war with Germany by repealing the declaration of war. It will come up Monday.

LONDON.—The lord mayor of Cork, Thomas MacGurk, was shot dead at 11 o'clock this morning by masked persons whose identity is unknown. The shot entered his residence and after firing the shot entered in an automobile. Mayor MacGurk was a prominent Sinn Féin.

CHICAGO.—James A. Valera, president of the republic of Ireland, will arrive in Chicago today on board the ship for Ireland now being subscribed in the United States.

BIRDS IN THE BILBOARDS.

Port Atkinson, Wis., March 15.—Four years ago millions of bluebirds and robins perished in an April blizzard. One farmer found a dozen dead birds behind stumps. Scattered feathers showed the work of weasels, minks, skunks and cats. Not a bird had been killed. A million pairs of human hands could have nailed a million boxes and 50 pound lead cans high up on trees—openings facing south, each can containing a peck of wheat, oats, or other grain. Mass protection, but the birds were not helped.

Civilization has removed the left vine tangles that caught the blizzard on one side and made a protecting blanket for the other. Civilization has also added deadly cats and the sparrows have come to eat the weed seed—spring fodder. Our native birds cannot stand both snow and starvation. They must be helped.

On the south side of the writer's home and garage are six little board perches for nests—under the eaves and cornices. On these every night for 14 days perched six robins secure from the cold and cold winds. In my bird wigwam, 20 feet high—simply a circle of poles filled with brush—were safely hidden a score of other birds. One side of the wigwam was covered with a net, forming a perfect blanket. The other side was warm. Cats do not climb it. They know they will stir the brush and get nothing. There are prominent Chicagoans with fine estates who have had in bird protection. A pole and brush wigwam covered with vines is a handsome thing. It gives back to the birds their lofty protection against the deadly snuff of winter and it is an almost perfect refuge from enemies. The ground is no place for a bird to hide from a storm. It is a place for a bird to hide from a storm. It is a place for a bird to hide from a storm.

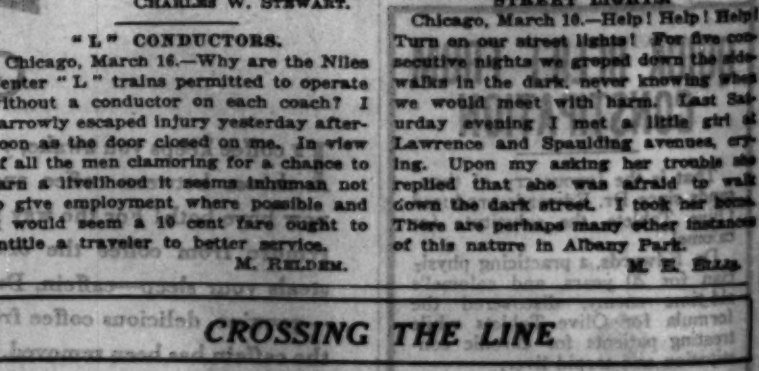

GOLD AS A PRICE DEFENSIBLE.
Chicago, March 14.—The rapid decline in the value of farm and other staples since January, in face of the attempt of the farm stabilization board to hold prices of billions of dollars, and the fact that many have capacity for putting facts together and finding the cause of such conditions, should be kept in mind that every sale of a commodity is in effect a purchase of gold. Second, that since 1923, 23 nations that had suspended gold payment during the war have now returned to gold payment, Japan being the last. Third, that there are now 100 nations that are in gold. Fourth, that the gold standard, leaving but 4 nations that are not bidding with all their might for gold. Fourth, with all this increased demand for gold, the world's production of gold has experienced a falling off of more than one-fourth since 1915. Fifth, the enormous debts created during the war as a result of the waste and destruction of the war, running into billions of dollars, and the fact that the gold standard is the only basis of value of gold (probably thousands of billions of dollars, no one seems to know how much), then the reparations agreements with Germany under the Young plan to pay about $10,000,000,000 in gold. There is such a bidding for gold that the world has never before experienced, and with less than $10,000,000,000 of gold in the world to meet the demand, it is impossible to forecast the height of value that gold may reach, or in other words, the depth to which general prices may slump.

IN 1894, with nothing near such a demand for gold, the price of wheat fell to about 45 cents per bushel, corn to 19 cents, oats to 14 cents, pork to $5.50, lard to $3.05 per cwt., in Chicago. I am not prophesying such a fall, yet it is in the possibilities of things because it is a matter of history.

CHARLES W. STANTON.
"I" CONDUCTORS.
Chicago, March 15.—Why are the Niles Coach "I" trains permitted to operate without a conductor on each coach? I narrowly escaped injury yesterday afternoon as the door closed on me. In view of all the men clamoring for a chance to earn a livelihood it seems inhuman not to give employment where possible and it would seem a 10-cent fare ought to entitle a traveler to better service.

STREET LIGHTS.
Chicago, March 15.—Help! Help! Help! Turn on our street lights! For five consecutive nights we groped down the sidewalks in the dark. Some cars were without lights, and a few cars with lights were dim. Last Saturday evening I met a little girl at Lawrence and Spaulding avenues, crying. Upon my asking her trouble she replied that she was afraid to go home because the street lights were out. There are perhaps many other instances of this nature in Albany Park.

A trip through this model apartment shows how furnishings of good taste may be combined at moderate outlay to give the very livable effect of a "town apartment in summer."

In this Chinese Sun Room the floor is black lacquer; the draperies over windows, painted to represent etched rice paper, are Chinese red silk; and the furniture is rattan with red and green cushions. In the corners tea chest gold panels edged in black appear as screens. Especially interesting is the decorative note of blue carried throughout the entire apartment.

U. S. WITNESS IN HALE DRY CASE FREED BY INDIANA

Paroled on Charge After Two Weeks.

After serving two weeks of a ninety day sentence for contributing to the delinquency of a young girl, John Burhop, one of the principal witnesses against his uncle, former Mayor R. F. Hale of East Chicago, in the latter's recent federal liquor trial at Hammond, has been paroled from the Indiana state farm. Burhop entered the farm on Feb. 28 and was paroled by Gov. Harry G. Leslie last Saturday on the recommendation of the parole board, Indianapolis, dispatches said yesterday.

Burhop's testimony, given after his conviction on the delinquency charge but before he was sentenced by Criminal Court Judge E. Miles Norton of Crown Point, was considered as important as that of any of the witnesses United States Attorney Oliver Loomis used against Hale.

His Becker Not Known.

Just who supported Burhop's parole plea before the board seemed a mystery last night. Ralph A. Howard, superintendent of the penal farm, said the board was told that Burhop's offense was not a flagrant violation of the law and that it was his first.

According to Howard's records, the only name accompanying Burhop's parole request was that of Dr. A. G. Schlicker of East Chicago, his stepfather. Schlicker married Burhop's mother, who is a sister of Hale's wife, and both men are said to be political enemies.

Judge Norton denied that he had recommended the parole and said that his letter to the board said: "I have done my duty in sentencing this man—the rest is up to the board."

Mr. Loomis asserted that after Hale's trial he had called Judge Nor-

SEARCH OF SUSPECTED GUN TOTERS BY POLICE IS UPHELD BY JUDGE

Judge Freeman Leroy Fairbank yesterday upheld the right of a policeman to search a person for a revolver and to prosecute if the suspect is found to be carrying a gun. He sentenced Samuel Jones, a Negro, to the house of correction on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, despite the defense plea that the arresting officer had not seen any crime committed at the time and had no reason for suspecting Jones of having committed a crime.

"I have consistently held that an officer has the right to arrest a man for an offense that was committed even if he didn't see it committed," Judge Fairbank declared. "In this case the offense was committed when the defendant had the gun, even though the policeman didn't know it until he searched the man."

and asked that leniency be shown Burhop because of his help to the government. The judge replied that he could show no leniency considering the nature of Burhop's offense, Loomis said, and Judge Norton confirmed him. The prosecutor said that he had not made a recommendation to the board nor to Gov. Leslie.

Says Release Is Unusual.

J. P. Boyd of Vincennes, chairman of the board, could not remember, he said, who recommended the parole, but said it was passed at the meeting on March 12. Member J. R. Jones of Plymouth had no recollection of the hearing, but said that the release in so short a time was unusual. Gov. Leslie is now in Florida, having left Saturday after signing the parole. His secretary, Gaylord Morton, stated that neither he nor the governor knew anything of the case except that a parole was filed shortly after Burhop was committed to the farm.

More mystery was added when it was reported in Indianapolis that State Representative J. Glenn Harris of Gary had been interested in Burhop's behalf. Manuel Mendez, convicted with Burhop and given the same sentence, is still at the farm.

GERMANY BREAKS WITH PROVINCE IN FASCIST ROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BERLIN, March 19.—Germany today severed diplomatic and also financial relations with the Fascist state of Thuringia. To be more specific, Minister of the Interior Karl Severing, a Socialist, announced he would not answer any more Thuringian communications until the Nationalist-Socialist, or Fascist, Minister Frick of Thuringia replied to a letter of Feb. 17 asking for certain information. Minister Frick has ignored the letter thus far.

Herr Frick said in the course of a public speech that he would make "Socialist Severing" wait for his reply. Dr. Severing heard of that remark today, and nearly turned the trick on the obstreperous Herr Frick, known as "the bad boy" of provincial German politics. After sticking an unexpected pin into Herr Frick, Dr. Severing gave it a malicious twist by adding words to the effect that he "doesn't give a whoop," if Frick's reply ever comes.

Then he proceeded to announce that Thuringia will get no more money from the reich for police upkeep until Herr Frick satisfies the government that he will not spend it converting the Thuringian police into shock troops for the much bruited Fascist putsch.

From Leipzig come reports that the Supreme court has ordered an investigation against Frick, to ascertain whether a charge of high treason can be placed against him. Berlin papers declare he is guilty of having his subordinates require applicants for police jobs in Thuringia to satisfy him of their friendliness toward the Fascist movement.

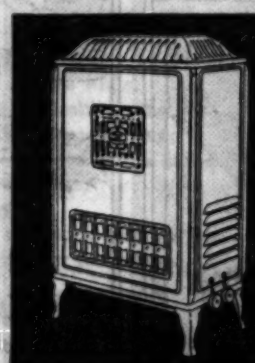

Since the reich pays 85 per cent of the Thuringian police costs, Frick faces the necessity of backing down to Dr. Severing's demand, or defying him by ordering the much talked of Fascist revolution.

"Live with simplicity
if you would live well"

—EPICURUS

THE advice of the ancients does not vary from the advice of modern science.

Quite easily could we imagine these very words of Epicurus coming from the mouth of our own family physician—"Live with simplicity if you would live well."

What better way to live with simplicity and live well than to eat the simplest, most wholesome foods—the foods that help to keep us well.

And assuredly at the head of the list of such foods are pure cream, sweet milk, and fresh fruits—the simple wholesome goodness of HYDROX Ice Cream.

PUNISH PARENTS OF CHILDREN IN
COMMUNIST RIOTGet Short Jail Terms
for Breaking School Law

New York, March 19.—(Special.)—The parents of children who took part in the demonstration in Union square on that day went to the Bronx court today when Magistrate George P. Ewald, sitting in the Bronx criminal court, found them guilty of violating the school attendance laws and gave them the alternative of fines or jail sentences.

The mother of one of the children received a sentence of $10 or two days in jail, and the other parents were each fined $5 or a day in jail for each child. Those with one child, therefore, were out at 4 p. m. today.

Attorney Argues with Judge.

The hearing was marked by a debate between the magistrate and attorney Benjamin F. Lindheimer, who argued that the parents were not responsible for the actions of their children.

Dismissal of Case Refused.

Mrs. Lena Smith received the hearing, no release being given for the penalty. The other defendants were Angelo Severino, Mrs. Sarah Goldstein, Irman Behrman, Mrs. Celia Rosen, Mrs. Sonia Rosinsky, Mrs. Rosa Borstein, Meyer Malachuk, Abraham Ishowsky, Berkey Dandow, and Fred Martin.

When the first case was called, Lindheimer made a motion that the charges be dismissed, because the parents had a right to keep their children out of school to celebrate "employment day," and that they came under the stimulation of the school regulation allowing the dismissal of children from school for the duration of any "recognized religious holiday."

HAITI TO CHOOSE
POLITICAL NOVICE
AS BOSS TODAY

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, March 19.—(AP)—Deputies from all 19 departments gathered here tonight in readiness for the election tomorrow morning, when Eugene Roy will be formally elected as temporary president of the republic.

There have been laid for an enthusiastic session, although the vote itself will be a mere formality because all the groups represented by deputies are solidly behind the temporary government plan formulated by President Hoover's commission of inquiry.

M. Roy will be nominated, seconded, approved, and then tentative plans will be made for his formal election on April 14 by the council of state. That body, through President Louis Borno, has given a written guarantee that it will elect M. Roy to take up the executive duties when the presidential term expires in the middle of May.

GORMAN, FORMER
CROWE AID, NAMED
SO. PARK ATTORNEY

George E. Gorman, first assistant state's attorney under Robert E. Crowe, was appointed attorney for the south park commissioners at the annual meeting of the park board yesterday.

The appointment of Gorman carried out predictions made when Lindheimer was elected to the board by nine Democratic judges of the circuit court combined with three Republican judges friendly to Crowe. Gorman succeeds Elmer J. Schnuckenberg.

Edward J. Kelly was re-elected president, Philip A. Graver became vice president, and Michael J. Igoe was re-elected auditor. Kelly, Igoe, and Lindheimer are Democrats, and Graver and John Bain, the fifth commissioner, are Republicans.

All other park officials were reappointed, including George T. Donoghue, superintendent; Milton E. Connelley, secretary; and Oscar G. Foreman, treasurer.

SENATE FIGHT
IN COOK COUNTY
DRAWS NEARER

With Ruth Hanna McCormick speaking at East St. Louis and Senator Charles S. Deneen addressing a meeting at Bloomington, the Republican senatorial campaign last night moved a few notches closer to the battle in Cook county next week.

Deneen headquarters sent out a communique that Stuart Pearson, a Deneen supporter, has been appointed director of the department of agriculture to succeed Clarence P. Buck, who resigned to run for state treasurer. The Deneen women's bureau issued a statement that Mrs. Emmerson was in the receiving line at a tea given for Mrs. Deneen recently.

Meanwhile, at McCormick headquarters, W. R. James, president of the west parks board and fishing and hunting companion of Gov. Emmerson, took up his work as Cook county manager. Mrs. McCormick, who campaigned in St. Clair county yesterday, is to make three talks in Chicago tonight. The first, from 8:30 to 9 o'clock, is a radio address under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Later she will address a banquet of Polish businessmen at the Marlborough hotel, given by N. L. Florkowski, president of the Great Lakes Insurance company, who has endorsed her candidacy. The final speech will be at the Bern High school.

Vetoed Dead Ordinance
for Avenue O Opening

Acceptance by the city council at its last meeting of a dead conveying a strip of property to the city for the opening of Avenue O, between 116th and 130th streets, was vetoed yesterday by Mayor Thompson. The mayor assented his veto on the stipulation in the conveyance which released the donors from any special assessments in connection with the street opening in the next ten years. The state already has recommended the use of $20,000 from the gasoline tax to pave the street between 114th and 138th streets.

CLEAN UP CRIME
AT THE PRIMARY,
IS BACON'S PLEA

Walter B. Bacon, regarded as the candidate of Fred Landon for the Republican nomination for county treasurer, yesterday gave out a statement declaring that the primary election of April 8 should be a step toward divorcing local government from "crime, corruption, and conditions producing bankruptcy." The statement said that the next county treasurer will exercise influence in the nomination of a candidate for World's Fair mayor of Chicago "as did the present county treasurer four years ago and his predecessor eight years ago."

"The primary is the time to start on a clean road," said Mr. Bacon. "If honest, capable candidates, loyal to their pledges, are nominated, the election will take care of itself."

"If I become county treasurer any influence that I may have will be exerted in behalf of a thoroughly honest and intelligent administration of our city for the ensuing four years and covering the period of the World's Fair."

COUNCIL ASKS
SUBWAY PLAN
FOR I. C. TRACKS

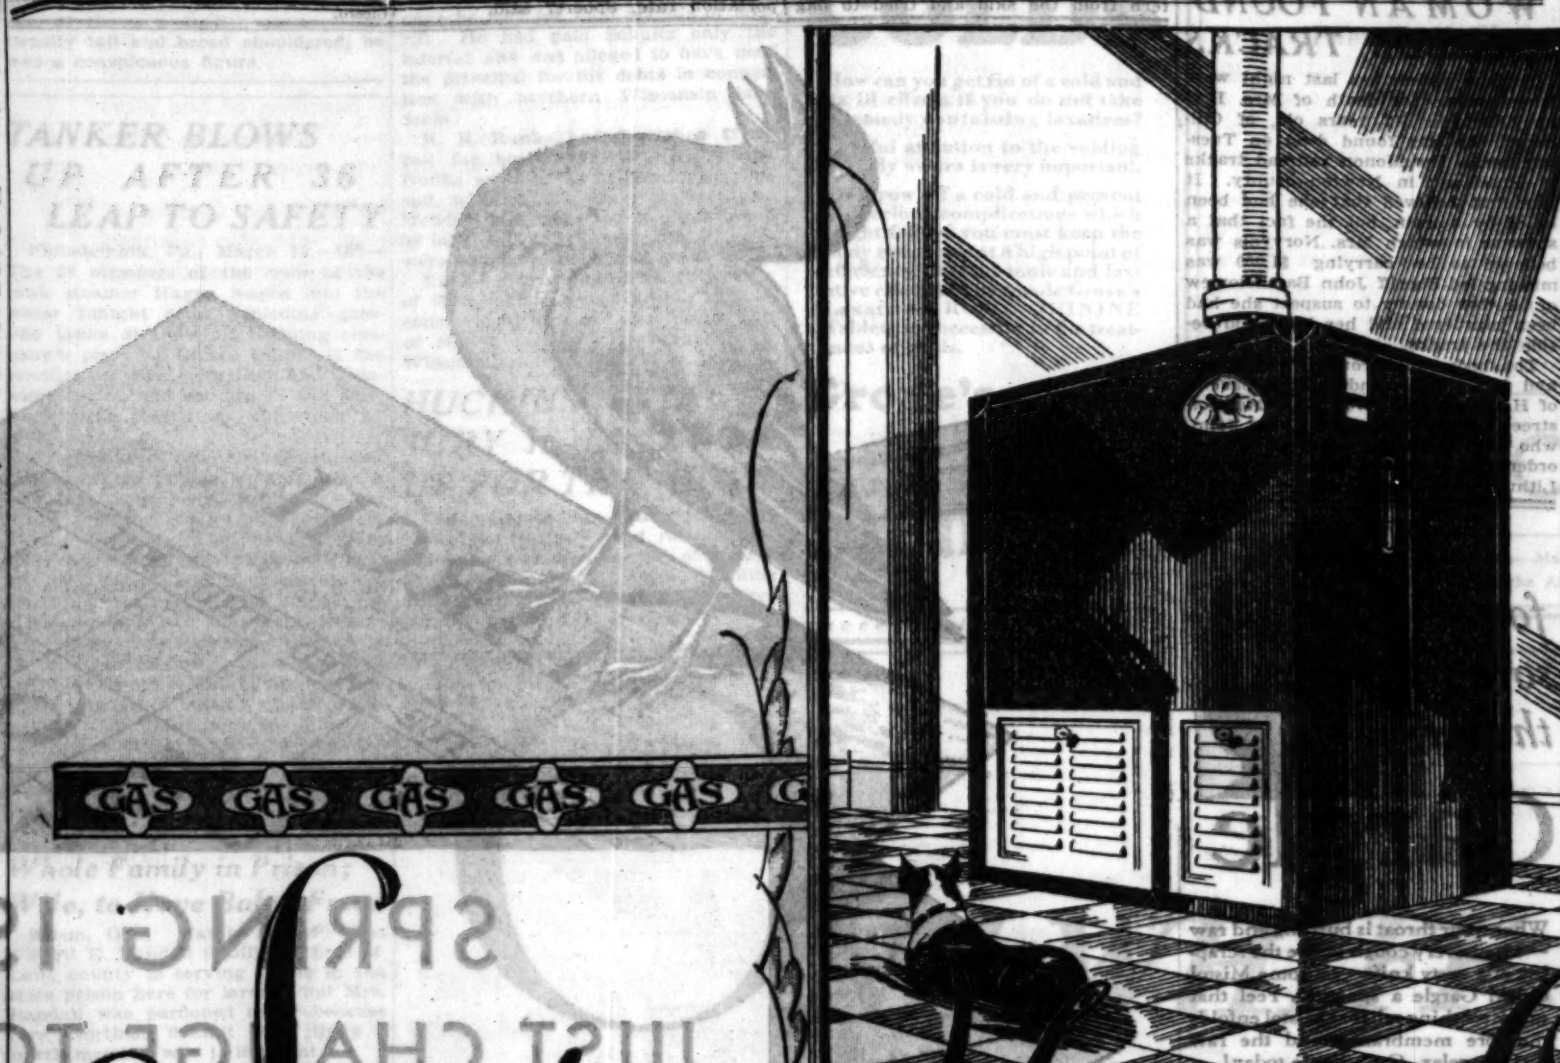

The council track elevation committee was directed by the council yesterday to prepare an ordinance for the depression of the Illinois Central tracks in 11st street from the main line to Exchange avenue and in Exchange avenue between 11st and 13th streets. Two estimates of the cost of digging a subway were in the hands of Asst. Clement A. Nance (7th), who introduced the resolution. One estimate of $3,982,545 was for a depression starting at 11st street and Stony Island avenue and the other estimate of $10,082,100 was for a subway beginning at the point where the South Chicago branch leaves the main line. The committee now has before it an ordinance to elevate the tracks, which has been protested by a large number of property owners, who favor a subway. The elevation costs are estimated at half of the estimated cost of a depression.

Spring House Cleaning made permanently easier by
AUTOMATIC GAS HEATING

BECAUSE Bryant Gas Heating brings no dirt into the home and creates none, both housekeeping and housecleaning are made measurably easier. No soot or dust ever sifts upward through the house, no grimy vapors ever take toll of rugs, drapery, upholstery, clothing or painted surfaces. The daily work is lightened and seasonal cleanings, the dread of so many households, require only a fraction of the time and energy formerly demanded. Redecorating, with its heavy, accompanying expense, is postponed by years.

Bryant Gas Heating can literally transform a house—make it larger—cleaner—far more convenient—requiring less daily labor—and a healthier spot as well as a happier one.

Larger because Bryant Gas Heating adds the basement to the clean and useful, livable space.

Cleaner because a Bryant Boiler generates no soot, dust, grime or greasy vapors.

More convenient because Bryant Heating requires no furnace tending. The house is warm when you wake and stays warm until you want it cooler for sleeping—all for the effort of winding on a 5-day clock once a week and an occasional glance at a convenient panel.

Less daily labor because even the daily dusting requires less effort in a Bryant-heated home.

Healthier because of the uniform temperatures maintained—no sweltering one moment and being chilled a half-hour later.

Happier because tempers are not worn ragged by break-downs or the need for frequent coddling of a balky furnace or a complicated mechanism.

An accurate, dependable estimate of the cost of installation and operation of Bryant Automatic Gas Heating can easily be furnished you. Telephone or write any office listed at the left and let them know that you are interested.

BRYANT GAS HEATING

These "hidden savings" which families in Bryant-heated homes enjoy are just one of the many advantages which combine to make Bryant Heating "the greatest single convenience ever offered the American home."

For complete details about a heating plant which will "let your pup be your Furnace Man," telephone this office or consult any office listed at the left.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weak; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

DEMOCRATS BACK WET IN INDIANA CONGRESS RACE

Pettingill Will Battle Hickey, G. O. P. Dry.

South Bend, Ind., March 19.—[Special.]—Democratic leaders in the seven northern Indiana counties comprising the 13th congressional district today tossed the wet and dry issue squarely into the impending battle for the seat by announcing themselves solidly behind Samuel B. Pettingill, South Bend attorney, a candidate for the nomination for congress.

Since Mr. Pettingill is avowedly against national prohibition and it is indicated he will have no opposition in the primary, the battle this fall is bound to be between himself and Congressman Andrew J. Hickey of La Porte, a dry, who is seeking reelection. Mr. Hickey has served six terms.

Member of School Board.
Mr. Pettingill is 44 years old. The only office he has ever held has been in the primary, the battle this fall is bound to be between himself and Congressman Andrew J. Hickey of La Porte, a Democrat, as mayor of South Bend was credited to a large extent to Mr. Pettingill's radio addresses in his behalf.

Mr. Pettingill has called national prohibition "a monstrosity."
"It violates the fundamental principle of all law regulating personal conduct, that it must be dynamic, not static, capable of change as men change, as experience ripens," he says. "The more that should have been done, if anything, would have been to grant congress the power to legislate with respect to interstate and foreign commerce in liquors, leaving the manufacture and the intrastate commerce to the several states."

Supporters of Candidacy.
Among the party leaders sponsoring Mr. Pettingill's candidacy are Miss Esther O'Keefe of Plymouth, candidate in 1922; James L. Harmon of Elkhart, candidate in 1926, and Chester L. Perkins of South Bend, candidate in 1928. The Democrats point out that there are about 90,000 votes in the district and that Hickey, the Republican, has been winning by only 7,000 to 9,000 votes. They say they believe that with the signs pointing to a large Democratic vote this fall Hickey can be defeated.

COAL MINER BANKRUPT.
East St. Louis, Ill., March 19.—[Special.]—A coal miner of Besmer, Ill., today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in federal court. He listed liabilities of $1,200 and assets of $200. He claims exemptions on all of the assets.

NORTH SIDERS PLAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The organization of a chamber of commerce to further the business and civic interests of the north side was projected yesterday at a luncheon in the Sheridan Plaza hotel, at which thirty representatives of manufacturing, commercial, and banking houses pledged their support to the plan. The new North Side Chamber of Commerce, it was said, would confine its activities to the territory bounded, roughly, by the lake, the northern city limits, Western avenue, and North avenue, although no definite boundaries were fixed at yesterday's meeting.

PROBE DEATH OF WOMAN FOUND BESIDE TRACKS

Indiana authorities last night were investigating the death of Mrs. Bronya Norvich, 42 years old, of Chicago, who was found dead on Tuesday beside the Moon railroad tracks at Roseland, in Newton county. It was first believed that she had been killed by a train, but the fact that a suitcase in which Mrs. Norvich was believed to be carrying $1,000 was missing led Sheriff John Barbier of Newton county to suspect she had been murdered and her body laid beside the tracks.

The body was brought to Chicago and left at the undertaking parlors of H. D. Sheldon, 5708 West Madison street, by the woman's husband John, who gave Sheldon no address, leaving orders for burial on Saturday at the Lithuanian National cemetery.

THREE WORKERS HELD IN FATAL TRAIN COLLISION

Three laborers, whose work of moving tile across the tracks of the Chicago and North Western railroad at Arlington Heights caused a double train wreck resulting in the death of one man and injuries to 23 other persons, were being held by the Arlington Heights police last night to appear at the inquest at Des Plaines at 10 a. m. today.

The body of the one dead man, Carl Kutzner, 43 years old, 1814 North Mainfield avenue, the engineer on a northbound suburban train, was recovered from the wreckage yesterday. The three laborers, Clarence R. Miller, 747 9th avenue, Des Plaines; Manuel Machnick, 212 North Dail street, Arlington Heights, and Joseph Catoldi, 114 South Dail street, Arlington Heights, were moving tile across the tracks to be used in sewer construction in Stonegate, a subdivision. A steel cable pulling a steel skid, 11 feet long and 8 feet wide, snapped just as the skid cleared the northbound track. Miller grabbed a red lantern from the skid and tried to flag the southbound limited, but the engine, Harry McCluskey, failed to see the signal until it was too late to stop the train. The derailed engine leaped across the northbound track and Kutzner's engine plowed into it.

DOZEN IN TAXI IS TOO MANY FOR EVANSTON

How many passengers constitute a safe load for a taxicab?
Evanston High school students are reported to consider 12 to 15 just about right, but the Evanston Safety council and the Evanston cab companies decided yesterday that six is the limit and that in future cabs will carry no more than that number.

The decision was reached after Harman J. Sporer, president of the Safety council, had protested against what he termed the practice of students of the high school in riding home a dozen or so in a cab. Taxi drivers had allowed as many students as could crowd into a cab to ride for the price of one, and as a result the boys and girls piled in several deep to take advantage of the low transportation rate, Sporer said.

MEXICAN BAND BOOSTS RANSOM FOR U. S. CAPTIVE

San Angelo, Tex., March 19.—[Special.]—While relatives here today were attempting to negotiate the release of J. E. Bristol, 59, American oil operator kidnapped by Mexican bandits near Tepic, Narayit, word was received that ransom of 10,000 pesos had been demanded, instead of 5,000 pesos as first reported.

A message from the American consul at Juarez, Mexico, said an "emissary" from the bandits was expected at Tepic at any time.

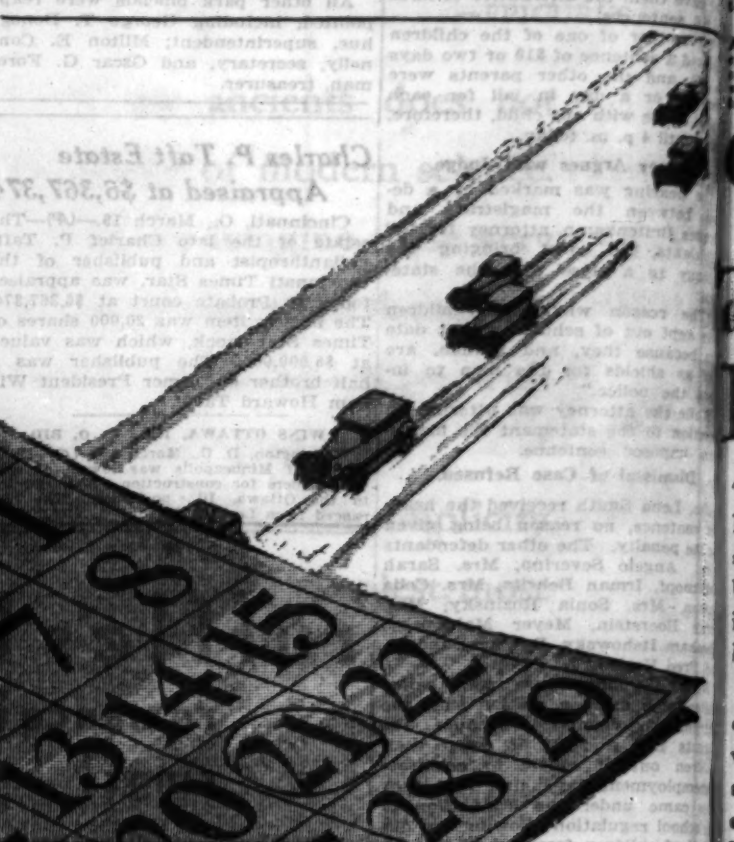

The kidnapping of the San Angelo oil operator has been called to the attention of the Mexican government by the United States ambassador, who requested every effort be made to free the Texan.

STEAL TRUCK LOAD OF BRASS.
Three robbers escaped early yesterday with a truck load of brass and copper fittings valued at $5,000 after binding John Williams, watchman at the Blakesley Manufacturing company, 1900 South 52d avenue, Cicero.

SPRING IS HERE JUST CHANGE TO A HEAVIER GRADE OF The New WAXFREE HAVOLINE

FOR STURDIEST WARM-WEATHER LUBRICATION
You have found the new Waxfree Havoline to be the greatest winter oil you ever put in your crankcase.

In its heavier grades, it is the finest warm-weather lubricant... because it is the first 100%-distilled pure paraffin-base oil ever refined free from all impurities... free from wax!

Heretofore, the best hot-weather oils have contained wax. Wax however turns water-thin with heat and has no lubricating value. This wax has been entirely removed from Waxfree Havoline.

Because it is 100% distilled paraffin-base oil, Havoline holds its sturdy oiliness at high motor temperatures when ordinary oils vaporize and "go up in smoke." Its summer grades possess greater heat-resisting qualities than any other oil of the same viscosity at 210° F. and above... assuring richer lubrication... more mileage... greater power... less carbon... less frequent crankcase drains... in the hottest going.

Open roads are inviting long trips, fast trips, hot trips in your car. Change today to the proper warm-weather grade of Waxfree Havoline and know that your motor is receiving 100% lubrication at every speed, in every weather.

THE STEEL HIGHWAYS ARE ALWAYS OPEN

STATE TO LAUNCH SEASON'S ROAD WORK APRIL 11

Metropolitan Area Is Not Well Represented.

BY HAL FOUST.

Illinois on April 11 will receive bids for 140 miles of paving, twenty-six miles of grading, and the construction of a number of bridges, the total cost to approximate $5,000,000.

This will inaugurate the 1930 road building program on which the state plans to spend between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 for approximately 750 miles of new pavements, $10,000,000 of the total going to the Chicago metropolitan area.

The Chicago district is poorly represented in these first contracts. This is because rights of way have not been dedicated to the state.

Late Plats Cause Delay.
The state highway department was late in getting plats to the county highway departments and the county highway departments are late in obtaining necessary property from private owners.

In Cook county contracts are to be awarded for the following: A bridge on Governor's highway over the late Calumet river; 34 of a mile of paving on the Elgin-Evanston road on the approach of a bridge near the Chicago and North Western railroad northwest of Des Plaines, and 7 of a mile of grading for a grade separation on the Dundee road and the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern tracks at Barrington.

Lake County in Contracts.
Lake county contracts are: Three-tenths of a mile of paving on the grade separation of the Northwest highway and the Chicago and North Western railroad at Crystal Lake; 1.3 miles of grading for a separation of Milwaukee road and the Soo line at Lake Villa; 4.73 miles of paving on route 59 between Viola and Ingleside, and 25 of a mile of paving at grade separation of route 61 and the Chicago and North Western at Crystal Lake.

On route 71, west of Aurora, there will be four miles of paving between Hinckley and Big Rock in De Kalb and Kane counties respectively.

Langguth and Girl in Court; Deny Fraud Charges
Elmer P. Langguth, president of the defunct Peoples' state bank of Maywood, and his cashier, Miss Lavergne Lindgren, pleaded not guilty to embezzlement and conspiracy charges when arraigned yesterday before Judge Harry Fisher in the Criminal court. The judge set the case for trial on April 23.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR ARRIVES; AIMS TO TO PROMOTE PEACE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 19.—[Special.]—Sir Ronald Lindsay, new British ambassador to the United States, arrived in Washington late today and will present his credentials to President Hoover within the next few days. The newly appointed envoy, who comes to Washington as the successor of Sir Esme Howard, informed newspaper men in his first interview that he considered the advancing of world peace efforts his major mission in the United States. He expressed confidence that some sort of a treaty would be formulated at the London naval reduction conference, but warned that peace enthusiasts should not expect too much.

Members of the diplomatic corps and Washington residents gathered at the Union station as a welcoming committee were impressed at once by the size of the new British envoy. Usually tall and broad shouldered, he was a conspicuous figure.

TANKER BLOWS UP AFTER 36 LEAP TO SAFETY

Philadelphia, Pa., March 19.—[AP.]—The 25 members of the crew of the tank steamer Hagan leaped into the water tonight after exploding gasoline tanks at the Gulf Refining company's plant at Girard Point, at the junction of the Schuylkill and Delaware rivers, had set fire to the ship. They were picked up unharmed by tugs.

A few minutes after the men jumped overboard the tanker blew up with a blast that was heard for miles. Its tanks contained 70,000 gallons of oil. It had come in from Port Arthur, Tex., late today with 100,000 gallons, but about 30,000 gallons had been taken off.

Several tank cars on a railroad siding and a large warehouse filled with oil and gasoline also were destroyed. The blaze started on a pier, extending nearly half a mile off the oil reservation. Containing hundreds of 55-gallon drums of high test gasoline, the pier quickly was a mass of flames. As the drums went up, burning gasoline was showered over the tanker Hagan, which was tied up at the pier.

Whole Family in Prison; Wife, to Have Baby, Freed

Salem, Ore., March 19.—[AP.]—The Willard E. Randall family of three of Lane county is serving terms in the state prison here for larceny but Mrs. Randall was pardoned today because Gov. North had doesn't want there a fourth member who is innocent. Mrs. Randall, soon to become a mother, had served two months of a three year sentence. The Randalls were convicted of larceny of a dwelling.

USES DYNAMITE TO END HIS LIFE ON EVE OF TRIAL

Wausau, Wis., March 19.—[AP.]—Richard B. Runke, 52, prominent Merrill attorney, who was to go on trial there on Monday for misappropriation of funds from clients, committed suicide on the farm of his brother near here today by exploding dynamite at his side.

The brother, R. F. Runke, prominent farm and political leader, discovered the body near an outbuilding. Runke's left side had been blown away and his hands torn off. Relatives believe he held the dynamite at his side in his hands.

Runke was formally charged with misappropriating $1,500 from a mortgage he held for Paul Schultz of Merrill. He had paid Schultz only the interest and was alleged to have used the principal for his debts in connection with northern Wisconsin land deals.

R. F. Runke had furnished $1,500 bail for his brother's release and Runke was resting at the farm. The suit, which was to start at Merrill on Monday, was expected to be followed by others. Total claims against Runke were estimated at $25,000 or more.

Runke, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and well known in Wisconsin legal circles, was postmaster of Merrill for eight years under the Wilson administration.

HUCKINS' TRIAL JURY IS LOCKED UP FOR THE NIGHT

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 19.—[AP.]—Nine hours after it had received the case, the jury in the trial of George E. Huckins on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, retired for the night at 11:30 p. m. without reaching a verdict.

U. S. TAX TOTAL FOR THIS DISTRICT IS $50,520,739

Income tax collections since Jan. 1 for the first district of Illinois had reached a total of $50,520,739 when the internal revenue office closed last night. The amount received a year ago at this time was $57,356,554. All except a small number of late returns have been tabulated. Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, collector, expects to have almost complete figures for the first quarter by the end of the week. This, however, will not include cases in which extensions were granted.

A total of 218,300 returns had been received last night, as against 217,100 for the same period last year. Dispatches from Washington last night stated that income tax receipts from March 1 to 18 were only $10,000,000 below those for the same period last year. The dispatches also stated that the tax income for the fiscal year may be reduced only $60,000,000.

COPIES OF PARIS MODELS....

With French Ingenuity in Every Stitch

The great designers have given us a silhouette of femininity and effectiveness. Does one realize the intricate proportioning that it involved and can one imagine this mode in the hands of the unskilled when copies are to be made? This is the time—more than any other—when the handling of line must be done with the technique of the artist. How little it would take to ruin a Vionnet diagonal, a Patou sleeve, a Chanel cape, a Lelong décolletage, dependent as they are on surrounding proportions.

We have copied with exactness and finesse and offer these reproductions with the feeling of assurance. For these copies were made under the direct supervision of our buyers, who also selected them as the outstanding models at the Paris showing this Spring—those with truest feeling for and finest expression of a changed fashion period.

Sports Frock
Jean Patou, $55

His very famous bolero back on this slender sports frock, which is most ingenious in the stitched godets that give a low skirt fullness. Simple V neckline and cuffs are edged in white pique cut to look like rick rack. Silk crepe in medium blue, green, Chinese blue, gray, beige, Independence blue, mint green, black.

Scarf Frock
Maggy Rouff
$65

Maggy Rouff wore this frock herself.

It has lines that flow and make details that are especially becoming to a woman. The scarf collar that starts from the back of the blouse and the skirt fullness that seems to come from the same source. This frock Maggy Rouff has cleverly named "Enbuscade." In flat crepe, black and navy blue contrasted with Patou pink.

The Bolero
Maggy Rouff, $65

Informal in tone, this crepe frock heightens a formality in combination with the light blue so favored by Maggy Rouff. The flare of the bolero is reflected in the ripple of the skirt. In black with blue or white or opaline rose. Navy with white or opaline rose. For misses.

Sports Suit
Claire Soeurs, $55

The belt is sewed and indicates the waistline in a rather daring way. The one piece frock has a vestee and collar of white silk. Pin-dot silk in black, navy, green and brown. $55. In light-weight woolen: pirate blue, navy, black, green. $65.

Evening Gown
Claire Soeurs, $75

The petaled skirt so deftly featured by Claire Soeurs in the Spring showing in Paris is epitomized in this black taffeta evening frock. The square décolletage adds to its natural graciousness by contrast in the tailored bow at the back of the neckline. Copied in black, white, Lelong blue, rose and green. Misses.

The Bloused Frock
Ardanse, $50

"Ardensia" is rightly named, for it is the frock of Ardanse in every detail. Its blouse has an unusual collar that widens in front. Flat crepe in black with rose, navy with light blue. In sizes for women.

Little Capes
Lucille Paray, $50

The youthful epaulet shoulder is repeated in the two peplums. A white lingerie collar rolls back from its V line on the frock. Black, pirate blue and red flat crepe. In sizes for misses.

CHICAGO. These are the sixteen boys who hammered their way to victory in last night's inter-city bouts. Ten are Chicago battlers and six are from New York. They made boxing history by attracting the world's largest indoor sport crowd to Chicago Stadium, and they gave together the furious action it had come to see. The Chicago team was made up of boys who had proved themselves the best boxers of the central states, and the New York squad was drawn from "east side, west side, and all around the town." When these two forces came together the result was the greatest amateur show in boxing history.

LAKE-AUSTIN CORNER LEASED FOR 99 YEARS

John Cummings Lindop to Erect Building.

BY AL CHASE.

One of Oak Park's largest real estate deals, according to the participants, was announced yesterday, whereby John Cummings Lindop, Oak Park realtor, leased the northwest corner of Lake street and Austin boulevard from Christina Miller for ninety-nine years. The lease will pay $1,989,000 rental during the term. He has an option to purchase the property within twenty years for $325,000. The lease also contains a clause which states that the lessee must erect a new building to be ready on or before May 1, 1936, and which must cost not less than $200,000. In this connection Mr. Lindop states that as soon as the conditions warrant he intends to wreck the present improvement and erect a modern store and office building or possibly a hotel.

Property Entirely Rented.

The property, which fronts 103 feet on Lake street and 171 feet on Austin boulevard, is now improved with a one and two story commercial building, which is entirely rented.

Mr. Lindop will pay an annual rental of $14,000 for the first five years; then $15,000 for five years; $16,000 for five years, and $21,000 yearly for the balance of the term, or eighty-four years. The lease is dated May 1, 1929, and expires April 30, 1929. Benjamin F. March was attorney.

Report Earnings Slump.

Earnings of the Mohawk Carpet Mills company are said to be running considerably under the volume at this time a year ago. In some quarters, it is even doubted whether the current dividend rate can be maintained unless business takes a turn for the better. Earnings of the company were hit quite hard by the stock market crash of last fall and as a result net for the year is only slightly in excess of that of 1928.

GEORGE B. MCKIBBIN
Attorney at Law

Working his way through law school, Mr. McKibbin began at the bottom of the profession. Within a short time his legal and business ability was recognized by the Secretary of War, James W. Good, who later organized the law firm of Estington and McKibbin, which has handled litigation involving millions of dollars. During the war he served in the Chemical Warfare Division. He is a Director of the Chicago Y. M. C. A., and a trustee of the Chicago Park Employees' Benefit Fund.

CHARLES M. MODERWELL
Coal Operator

One of the country's largest coal operators, Mr. Moderwell possesses sound financial sense and constructive ability that will make him an ideal trustee for the Sanitary District. He is president of the United League Club and has served with distinction as president of the Chicago Board of Education. He is president of C. M. Moderwell & Co., Inc., the United Coal Co., and an executive of the Chicago Wilmington & Franklin Coal Co. He is a director of the Chicago Trust Co., the National Bank of the Republic, the City National Bank and Trust Co. of Evanston, and the Old Dearborn State Bank.

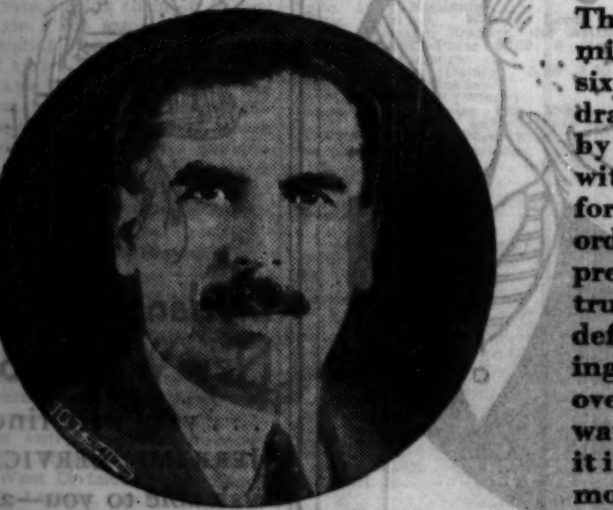

FLETCHER M. DURBIN
Engineer and Manufacturer

Years of building and operating railroads gave Mr. Durbin a thorough knowledge of extensive construction projects. Successive years as an executive of a large manufacturing corporation gave him a wealth of administrative experience. He is now director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago, and the National Portland Cement Corp., Sedon Mfg. Corp., Fibre Can Co., and Sedon Mfg. Corp. He served as a Lieutenant in Cuba during the war with Spain.

JOSHUA D'ESPOSITO
Builder of the Union Station

A famous engineer, Mr. D'Esposito has successfully handled vast projects costing fortunes and affecting the welfare of millions. As builder of the Chicago Union Station he directed the investment of $100,000,000 in that undertaking. During the war he served as an engineer for the Emergency Fleet Corp. Acting as arbitrator in labor disputes he has repeatedly brought peace and won many friends among both the contractors and the labor interests.

Three hundred and eighty-four million dollars of your money ... six times the cost of the entire drainage canal ... will be spent by Sanitary District Trustees within the next six years largely for the Sewage Treatment Plants ordered built by the U. S. Supreme Court. In addition, these trustees will be called upon to defend your interests before Washington officials in the controversy over the necessary diversion of water from Lake Michigan. Thus it is vitally essential that only the most capable and outstanding men be entrusted with this vast and costly project ... men who will expend your money honestly and capably, and who will command the respect and confidence of the Federal Government executives with whom they must deal. To secure men of character and ripe experience for the five trusteeships now open, a committee of prominent citizens was called together by Charles Ward Seabury, then president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. After combing the field they drafted for these positions five acknowledged business leaders. All have made exceptional successes ... one as a lawyer, two as engineers, one as a coal operator, and the fifth as a real estate specialist. With their varied experience they are splendidly equipped to direct the huge expenditures and solve the complicated problems of the Sanitary District.

The vast sums of public money involved make it absolutely necessary that good citizens work ceaselessly for the selection of these drafted business men as Republican candidates at the primaries, April 8.

AYRES BOAL
Real Estate

Actively engaged since his youth in the amazing real estate development of Chicago, Mr. Boal has gained a thorough knowledge of wise property management. For thirty years he has been handling properties worth many millions. He consequently is admirably fitted for the supervision of public projects. During the World War he was a Naval Lieutenant and commanded the U. S. S. Anderson operating off Lorient, France.

TWO BIG RIVALS GO CLOSER IN INDUSTRIAL RACEU. S. Steel, G. M. C.
Not Far Apart.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The two big rivals for American industrial supremacy, the United States Steel and General Motors corporations, waged a close contest last week. This is shown by the formal reports issued by both companies last night. (In this review the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the world's largest corporation, is considered as a third rival rather than an industrial concern.)

Although both corporations were handicapped by the recession in business toward the end of 1929, the U. S. Steel corporation appears to have weathered the storm a bit better and is slightly ahead of General Motors both as to volume of business and earnings.

In fact, the volume of both concerns was up for the week. The Steel corporation reported a 10 per cent increase in earnings, while General Motors suffered from competition and a drop in earnings.

General Motors, Not Income.

U. S. Steel last year had a total volume of $1,493,500,485, compared with $1,374,403,443 in 1929. Its net income was $197,832,460, equivalent to $21.19 a share. In 1929, it was $131,340 common shares, compared with net income of $114,173,774, or $18.97 a share. In 1929, it was $131,340 common shares, compared with net income of $114,173,774, or $18.97 a share. In 1929, it was $131,340 common shares, compared with net income of $114,173,774, or $18.97 a share.

U. S. Steel Shows Excellent Record.

U. S. Steel shows an excellent record for the year. The company's earnings were up 10 per cent over 1929. The company's volume was up 8 per cent over 1929. The company's net income was up 50 per cent over 1929. The company's earnings per share were up 12 per cent over 1929. The company's volume per share was up 10 per cent over 1929. The company's net income per share was up 15 per cent over 1929. The company's earnings per share were up 12 per cent over 1929. The company's volume per share was up 10 per cent over 1929. The company's net income per share was up 15 per cent over 1929.

Arrest Downward Trend.

The downward trend of steel production has been to a large extent arrested, but with buying at close range mills lack their customary large backlog as the second quarter approaches. The Iron Age says. "Scattered evidence of a expanding activity is seen in certain lines of consumption, but no broad upturn in steel demand is yet in sight."

With prompt deliveries obtainable and with the price situation by no means out of control, steel buyers have little hesitancy in committing themselves very far ahead. It also is possible that the disposition of the automobile industry to await developments that may bring about a new boom in the automobile industry may bring about a new boom in the automobile industry.

LOIS ALLEN, Secretary.

Business Pessimism Now
Fashionable, Scrutator Says

BY SCRUTATOR.

So many reports on business conditions, especially those in prospect, are written for a purpose or based on scanty information, that extreme care must be used in evaluating them. A year ago it was the fashion to be optimistic. It does not require a long memory to recall that men high in the business world were talking of a new era in which business would always boom and in which business prices for common stocks would always go up. Today it is the fashion to be pessimistic. There is a surplus of employable labor. There are surpluses of commodities of nearly all kinds, and business men admit they are not hopeful for the immediate future. They are still loath to believe that things are not quite so bad as they seem, but as few were willing to believe in the early part of 1929 that things were not as good as they appeared.

Ben Fair Estimates.

As fair an estimate as possible seems to have been made by the United States employment service of the department of labor on present employment and future outlook. Its report, released today, states that business and industry made no substantial gains in February, but adds that they appear to be consolidating progress made in January for an expected upturn in employment during the spring months.

The report then goes on to list a number of important industries, showing them to vary considerably in their state of prosperity. A number of automobile plants are on part time schedules, although there was a general upward trend in working forces toward the end of the month. Steel mill employment is rather low, but the government service states that a large

OUT BOND ISSUE

Washington, D. C., March 19.—(AP)—Authorization to issue $25,000,000 of five per cent refunding mortgage bonds was sought today by the Missouri Pacific railroad in an application to the interstate commerce commission. The securities would be issued to purchase new equipment costing $4,553,718, and to reimburse the road's treasury for capital expenditures already made. The Missouri Pacific proposed to sell the bonds to Kuhn, The St. Louis-San Francisco railway was authorized to guarantee the loan of $4,085,290 of equipment trust certificates to be issued by the Interstate Trust company of New York, Loeb & Co.

Consider Public Utility Bonds
In Building a Well Balanced
Investment Account

TODAY, the public utility industry represents a capital investment of about $25,000,000,000—a greater sum even than that invested in our railroads. The growth of this industry has been phenomenal. The electric light and power companies in the last twenty years, for instance, have increased their output over 1700 per cent, while the consumption of gas for industrial purposes has grown, since the war, over 1000 per cent.

The services rendered by the public utility industry are among the most essential. Except for industries supplying food, clothing, and shelter, no other is more important.

For this reason, the public utility industry is remarkably stable. Enjoying a virtual monopoly under state supervision, it is practically free of competition. It operates on almost a cash basis, and is not subject to inventory losses. Another stabilizing factor of great importance is the personal interest in the industry of millions of owner-customers.

In view of the stability of this industry, and its potential possibilities, we believe that the investor in building his bond account, can well include public utility bonds in as large a proportion as those of any other class.

BEGS FOR BORROWERS

New York, March 19.—(AP)—Investment funds poured into the bond market today, carrying transactions on the New York stock exchange above $25,000,000, principal amount, the largest total for the current movement and, of course, for the year. The unlisted market, where most of the business in bonds is done each day, reported an enormous demand. Transactions on the exchange in the last hour totaled about $8,000,000.

Developments reflecting the unusual eagerness of credit came rapidly. Call money renewed at 3 per cent for the first time in five years. Later the rate was cut to 2 per cent. Reports heard in Wall street said that the Bank of England would reduce its discount rate tomorrow. The funds were steady.

Gulf Oil Net Profits Are
$44,489,685 for 1929

New York, March 19.—(AP)—Net profits of the Gulf Oil corporation for 1929 were $44,489,685, equal to $9.93 a share on the common stock, and compared with net earnings of $26,140, or $5.06 a share, on a slightly lower capitalization in the previous year.

Old Employees Get Factory
as Shoe Firm Liquidates

Sels, Schwab & Co., which originated as a small Chicago shoe shop in 1871 and grew to one of the largest shoe manufacturers in the United States, will be liquidated. But its largest Chicago factory, which does a business exceeding $4,000,000 a year, will be turned over to five old employees who have been executives of the company.

These employees are C. Trafton Cole, William B. Rood, Edward Haan, Murdoch McGregor, and Charles A. Simpson. They have organized the firm of Cole, Rood, Haan & McGregor, to carry on the business. They have been given a lease on the factory and equipment of the plant at 514 West Superior street at a nominal rental and also the Sels-Schwab trade-marks, etc., without cost.

There are eleven other branch plants in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Connecticut. These will be sold or dismantled, according to an announcement by Edward F. Sels, vice president and executive head since the death of J. Harry Sels, president, last summer. The business was founded by Morris Sels following the Chicago fire. Charles H. Schwab joined it in 1882 and it was incorporated as Sels, Schwab & Co. in 1921.

Wieboldt Earnings Rise.

Net earnings of the Wieboldt Stores, Inc., operators of a group of department stores in Chicago, showed an increase for the fiscal year ended Jan. 25 despite a slight decline in sales and the general falling off in business.

IMPORT, EXPORT
RATES PROPOSAL

The Chicago Association of Commerce has filed exceptions to the proposed report of the interstate commerce commission involving rates on import and export traffic from and to South Atlantic and gulf ports.

Midwestern business with foreign countries will be seriously affected if the report is accepted, as it will practically close southern ports to shipments originating here or those routed to Chicago via harbors other than those of the North Atlantic seaboard, according to the arguments advanced.

Admits Negotiations with
Pullman, Inc., for Merger

Negotiations between Pullman, Inc., and the General American Tank Corporation looking toward consolidation have not reached a stage which justifies a public announcement, Elias Mayer, president of the tank car concern, stated last night. He had denied that his firm would become an investment company if the deal goes through. He said that acquisition of the properties of General American Tank Car by Pullman had not been considered, but that a merger had been discussed.

(Chicago Tribune from service.)

New York, March 19.—With the big banks bulking with money to lend, the call rate down to 2 per cent for the first time in more than five years, and the air full of "prosperity revival" talk, Wall street went on an old-fashioned stock buying jamboree today.

It didn't last the day out—pools with burdensome commitments to unload and "rich" profit takers saw to that—but while it was under way it made for about the liveliest scene witnessed on the share exchange since the panicky sessions of the big break last fall.

Prices were boomed in all directions, the leaders advancing one to five points, and dealings hit such a lively pace that the ticker fell more than thirty minutes behind floor operations. Final gains averaged one to three points in the active list.

See Administration's Hand.

The advance was accompanied by a report generally accepted that the administration at Washington was fostering the move as a further means of restoring confidence in industrial conditions. President Hoover and his advisers, it was said, are now satisfied that the effects of the slump of last fall have been largely wiped out and are anxious to improve on the small gains in the active list.

"THIS is the life, Helen. We're sitting on top of the world. And it hasn't seemed long since we started our investment program to get here. Guess I've shown good investment judgment—haven't I?"

"The best judgment you showed," returned his wife, "was to pick a good investment house and buy what they recommended. Where would we be if we had taken a chance on that XYZ stock Mable's husband recommended so highly?"

There is indeed real truth in this wife's brief analysis of their progress. Many an investor has found that the safest, surest road to goals worth while is that travelled by the men and women who rely on experienced, reliable investment counsel for guidance.

The long, specialized experience of the executives of R. E. Wilsey & Company has proved of incalculable value to investors. The investments we offer, principally electric light and power company securities, are of the class which appeal particularly to forward looking, yet conservative, investors.

CHICAGO STOCKS FALTER IN FACE OF EASY MONEY

Issues Relinquish Part of Early Gains.

By THOMAS FURLONG.

Faced with an abundance of easy money, Chicago stocks made a half-hearted attempt to advance yesterday, but the active leaders showed little fight as the first wave of profit taking overtook them. Gains were surrendered without much ado.

The close found several issues at higher levels, however, largely because of special reasons or because the profit takers were too busy with other stocks.

It remained for some of the less conspicuous issues to make the best showings. Super Mid was prominent among them with a gain of 3 points on sales of about 6,000 shares. Others in the group were the Chicago Electric, Time-O-Rate and Electric Household.

Among the radios, Atlas Stocks, Westark, and Grigsby among the radios showed a strong move. The latter was the center of a good deal of attention when it rose above 19 for a new high in the movement, but sold off later and finished with a net gain of less than a point.

Westark recovered 1 1/2 and Atlas jumped nearly two points. Atlas is undertaking a program of expansion by placing its sporting goods and cameras in forty additional stores. President H. M. Stein stated that the company hopes to double its sales during 1930 through the expansion. Atlas shares have been admitted to trading by the New York stock exchange.

McGraw Electric edged up a fraction with news of an increase in earnings during 1929. The company reported net income for last year of $1,012,058, equivalent to $4.95 a share on the common stock outstanding as compared with net in 1928 of $884,094, or $3.58 a share. Net sales for the year showed a gain of $475,964.

Gains Two Points.

Winton Engine showed substantial improvement. On sales of about 10,000 shares the stock closed 2 points higher.

United Gas was the victim of profit taking, sinking over 3 points to close at 4 1/2. Middle West closed unchanged.

Construction Materials was unchanged at 2 1/2. Earnings for 1929 showed a decline from the record profits of 1928, the annual report of the firm shows. Net last year was $961,845 equal after preferred dividends to $1.98 a share on the common stock. Net income in 1928 was $1,008,755.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, March 19.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was earlier today with prices declining 1-3/4 to 2 1/2. The spot, duty paid, continued uncertainly over elements in Cuba, where the solution of the sugar problem is still being discussed and the United States has issued renewed selling pressure in raw futures, with final prices not unchanged on the spot market, but 3 to 4 points lower on later deliveries. The opening was 5 points higher on sales of No. 1, 5.7 1/2; No. 2, 5.5 1/2; No. 3, 5.3 1/2; No. 4, 5.1 1/2; No. 5, 4.9 1/2; No. 6, 4.7 1/2; No. 7, 4.5 1/2; No. 8, 4.3 1/2; No. 9, 4.1 1/2; No. 10, 3.9 1/2; PORTLAND, the county Seat of Multnomah County, is one of the largest cities on the Pacific Coast, and by far the most populous and wealthiest city in Oregon. It is situated at the head of the deep water navigation on the Columbia and Willamette Rivers and is the commercial center and natural outlet for an area of 250,000 square miles of some of the richest agricultural, stock raising, mining and lumber country in the United States. It is served by eight railroads and reports list thirty steamship lines, carrying on an extensive coast-wide and trans-Pacific trade. Manufacturing is favored by an abundance of water power facilities. In 1928 there were 1,350 manufacturing establishments in the city, with a value of products in excess of $212,000,000. The 21 banks located in Portland report combined deposits of over $145,000,000.

These bonds, issued for waterworks purposes, constitute a direct obligation of Portland and are payable from unlimited ad valorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property therein.

I'll NEVER PLAY AGAINST People AGAIN

says

BOBBY JONES

WHEN W. E. Woodward, famous biographer, stepped up to Bobby Jones to find out what makes him click so surely and accurately, he hoped to find the secret of Bobby's flawless golf, of course.

But he discovered something about Bobby Jones' inner self. The famous star, it seems, used to have an ungovernable temper. But he's checked it so completely that today there isn't a more peaceful individual on the links of America.

"I used to play against people," he says. "Now I never play against people. My opponent is par. I simply try to beat par."

Everybody who has ever swung a golf club will be interested in that line. But so will every man and woman in America. Suppose every member of every family . . . every man and woman in every business office should say:

"I'm not in competition with so-and-so. I'm not trying to do better than the fellow at the next desk. My opponent is par. I must simply try to beat par. If I'm better than the average, I win."

What a licking envy and jealousy would take! And what energy now spent in watching the other fellow would be released for real honest-to-goodness work!

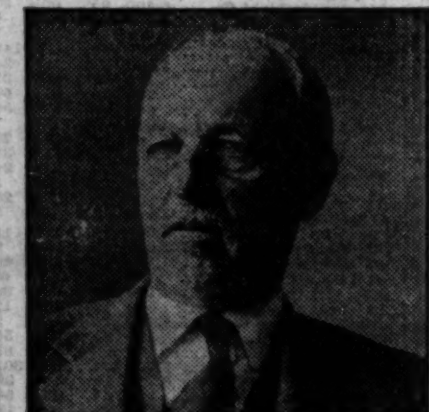

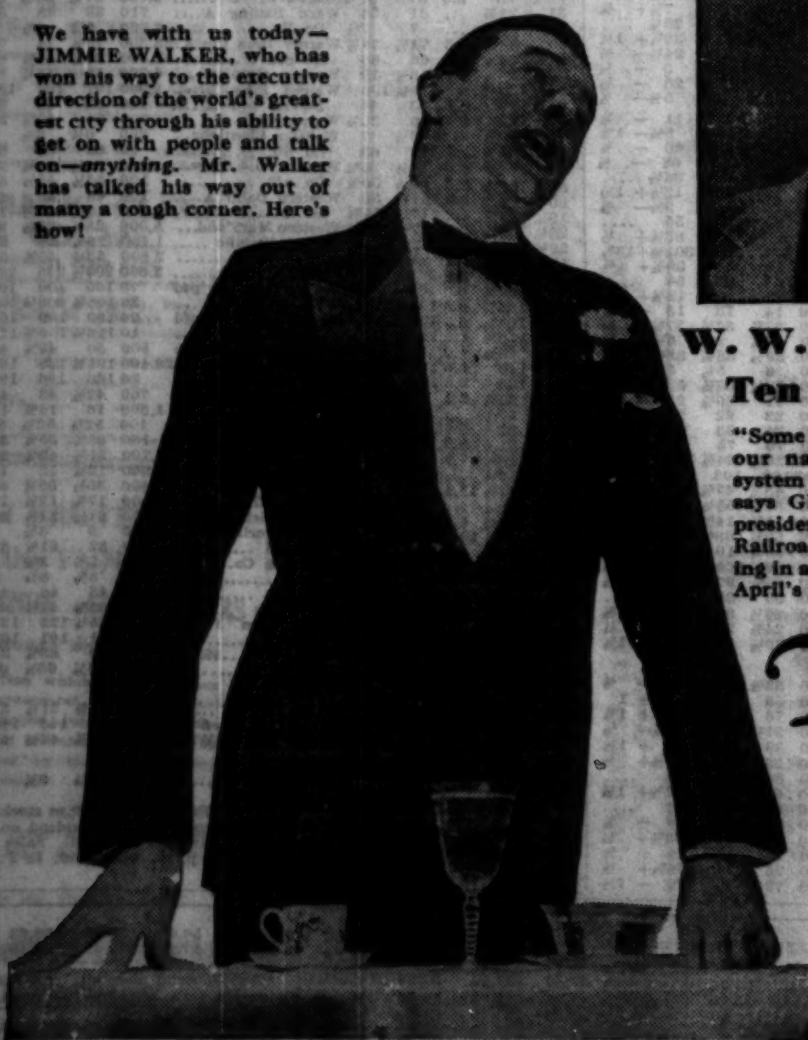

You'll learn a lot about golf—and about yourself—in this story about the great Jones. There can be a lot of spirituality in the swing of a golf club!

This is just one of the thirty great features in the April American Magazine on sale today.

Step up to a newsstand—buy your copy today. On every page is something that points at you.

How to Make a Speech by Mayor "Jimmie" Walker

We have with us today—JIMMIE WALKER, who has won his way to the executive direction of the world's greatest city through his ability to get on with people and talk on anything. Mr. Walker has talked his way out of many a tough corner. Here's how!

W. W. Atterbury sees Ten Years Ahead

"Some revolutionary changes in our national transportation system are in the making," says GENERAL ATTERBURY, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He tells what's coming in an enlightening article in April's American Magazine.

Romantic Rafael Sabatini writes his greatest novel

Inspiring, romantic Rafael Sabatini gives you his most colorful, exciting yarn, gathered up from the dust of old Europe. Knights gallant and ungallant . . . ladies bright and gay . . . the glint of clashing steel . . . all in "The King's Minion."

This new Sabatini serial moves more swiftly than "Captain Blood"—wears the whimsical garb, in spots, of "The Strolling Saint"—and gives you an even more intimate picture of Old England's ancient nobility than "Fortune's Fool." Start reading it today!

Wherever Courageous Spirits Roam . . .

BEN EIELSON will never fly over his beloved Alaska again—but his spirit will hover wherever men of courage wander. A woman who knew him writes a moving, revealing drama about this modern knight of the Arctic skies. His story will lighten your step and lift up your heart!

Amos 'n Andy tell dark.. dark secrets

The two black knights of the air tell you in their own inimitable dialect about their joys and sorrows . . . their ups and downs . . . and reveal some secrets of their inner and outer life that they've never put through the microphone. Before you buy any stock in their "Fresh Air Taxi Cab Company of America, Incorporated," read this.

Star Boarder Wants Seconds Helpings 'n' Landlady Thrown In

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I have been married eleven years, have four children, a good home and a husband who would do anything on earth for me," writes "Broken Heart." Just to prove how people will go out of their way to make life miserable for themselves, "Broken Heart" welcomes a boarder into the house. Incidentally, we haven't heard from the star guest in the house in this role of interloper for some time. We thought he had sort of slipped off as a menace. But here we find him up to his old tricks of winning the largest pitcher or cream with his strawberries and the favorite out of chickens, while the legal mate draws the wing if he's lucky. Or so we have figured out, since the star boarder proceeds to fall in love with his landlady, the mother of four and the wife of one.

We just guess that the S. B. would have to be well fed in order to turn a love-lit eye upon a lady so beautifully endowed. We might be wrong, but of course—love being what it is noted for being, the crazy old trouble-maker. Maybe, indeed, the landlady, though she's like none we ever met in a fairly prosaic boarding house, is just one of those girls with a heart so big it wants to take in everybody. That hardly explains her meekness off to the movies with her Beau Brummel, though, and leaving her husband and the four hunkies behind.

Star boarder gets furious because he believes his landlady loves her husband more than she does him. Give one of these devastating knights of the boarding table a dish of strawberries and cream, and he wants the woman thrown in.

Is it just not so silly to get serious about? Surely a woman could offer seriously for solution a love plot as cluttered with children? And surely, with the star boarder's girl friend summoning him to the telephone several times a week, no woman in her right senses would take what the gentleman says for more than a wife for good, round second helpings.

The whole thing could be solved so easily by raising the obtruder's board bill.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Pan Broiling Lamb Chops.

A recent letter received reminded me of the fact that there are some types of cooking, such as the cooking of lamb chops and beefsteak, that might receive attention about once a week in a column like this. The recipe for the cooking of these meats are practically all direction, or a description of method. Inexpert cooks are not fond of directions. A group of directions requires concentrated attention, if they are to be carried out, but let us say that they require no more than one needs for a driving a car. And if we want a soft and savory chop instead of a rocky, twisted, unattractive looking piece of meat, it is worth while to follow a list of careful directions.

First, there is the chop to get. Do you know how to buy lamb chops or do you take most anything that is handed to you? Do you trim them at home instead of letting the butcher do it for you? There is a great advantage in doing this piece of work yourself.

Second, there is the fire to look to.

WOMAN'S OR MISS JACKET

The jacket dress is one of the most important items for spring. It will serve for sports, spectator sports or afternoons, depending on the material used. It is lovely in black silk crepe, with the long waisted bodice having an inset of eggshell crepe accented by black bows and piping. The eggshell crepe lines the jacket and is used for the collar and never facing.

The pattern, 3234, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35 inch material with 2 1/2 yards of 35 inch contrasting.

According as the fire is right or wrong the cooked chop will be fine or poor. With a little experience a cook can pan broil a chop to near perfection. It is put into a prepared pan so hot that the meat will hiss when it hits the pan, but will not stick to it. After that just as much fire and no more must be maintained under the pan as that needed to cook a thick chop ten minutes to a side, or an ordinary six minutes to a side, without burning it in the slightest.

To prepare a pan for chops, put one tablespoon of fat into it and add salt according to the number of chops to be cooked, and add other seasonings to taste. Stir the dry ingredients into the fat to blend them perfectly and get the whole surface of the pan oiled. Put in the well trimmed, immaculate chops and cook for the necessary time, after which they should be beautifully browned and the fat in the pan mixed with some of the juices that have cooked out from them so that there will be a small amount of

For those open minded parents and certainly the new education needs all the advocates it can get—there are three most readable books that will give them an idea of the new education's ideals and the practical application of them.

Reading Matter Explains Methods of New Education

A list of books and playthings for children from babyhood up will be sent by Mrs. Beanna on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Here is a letter from a distant city:

"Dear Madam: You published an article in which you stated home work was not necessary below the twelfth year. The schools here seem insistent for assignment, entertainment, and punishment. My 9 year old daughter is in school four and a half hours a day, and is given much home work."

"Have you any reprints telling anything about the desirability of promoting twice a year, the need for hot lunches; the necessity of a warm waiting room for children who are forced to arrive early because of train and bus schedules; corporal punishment? Do you recommend the group system?"

"Any references you care to give me will be eagerly received."

Even in the most hidebound of school systems the last matters mentioned here should be looked after, though the first mentioned, home work and confinement, of course, require a new outlook.

There are many parents who are beginning to do their own thinking on the subject of education. There are many who know vaguely of the new education and who, instead of being antagonized by it, are intrigued and stimulated. And of these a number would like to know definitely not only its aims, but just how it is working out its ideals.

For those open minded parents and certainly the new education needs all the advocates it can get—there are three most readable books that will give them an idea of the new education's ideals and the practical application of them.

Being rather tired out after a strenuous day, Joan, 4, and Jean, 8, were promptly put to bed. While saying their night prayers, at the "God bless mother, etc." their father heard Joan rattling this off alone. When she finished he called, "Jean!" "Drowsily," she muttered, "Same here."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Spoiled the Effect.

I was allowing my hair to grow long, and it was about shoulder length, so I decided to be a Mary Pickford and wear long curls, not knowing any other way to do my hair. One morning I was rather late getting ready for school and rushed to make it in time. Boarding a street car I pushed my way to the front, and hearing snickers behind me, turned to see what the object of the laughter was. I failed to see anything, so I ignored it. When I was leaving my locker in school I was greeted by gales of laughter from my chum. Alas, I had forgotten to remove the rags from one of my trained curls. Imagine my bluster, when I think I am going to meet some of the people that were on that street car.

A. H. R.

Distressing for Guest.

I was seated at the telephone in my home having a chat with a friend—a sort of "gossip-fest." The door bell rang and my mother answered it. I paid no attention, but went on with my chat.

When I had finished I went into the living room and found that mother's caller was the subject of my most uncomplimentary remarks over the telephone. She showed plainly that she had heard every word I had said, and I felt like sinking through the floor.

PRIMO IS BURIED; SPAIN BESTOWS HIGHEST HONORS

King Mourns with Crowds
at Last Rites.

MADRID, March 19.—(AP)—Primo de Rivera rests in a soldier's grave, honored with the highest tributes a nation can bestow.

The body of the man who ruled Spain as dictator for six years and then went into exile, was placed beside the body of his wife in San Isidro cemetery today. Rain soaked flowers were piled high on the grave, which was closed with the honors being a captain general in the army and a premier in the civil establishment.

Former Berenguer and foremost dignitaries of the country, including King Alfonso, participated in the funeral. The king did not march in the procession to the cemetery, but attended the funeral from the north station before the funeral march began.

Thousands Attended Service.

Several hundred thousand persons gathered about the station, where the body rested in a caisson, while the king and army officials followed it. The caisson was pulled by six black horses. Don Fernando, brother of the king, followed it as a representative of the king. He is a cousin of Alfonso. Marching behind were the king's bodyguard, members of his cabinet and other officials, diplomats and clergymen.

A 21 gun salute boomed from the great hill, muffled drums rolled, a march and army airplanes flew overhead as the cortege passed through the streets lined with infantry and cavalry.

Bodies Pass in Review.

Between the station and the cemetery, the caisson halted in the center of the plaza fronting the Toledo bridge, while the funeral director's two charges stood behind the coffin and priests chanted beside the body. Soldiers of Spain passed in review for the first time before the captain general who so often had stood at salute as they swung past, their brilliant uniforms and polished accoutrements sparkling in a bright sun.

From here the drums rolled and the march to the cemetery resumed, now in a driving rain. The cemetery was reached and "the benevolent dictator" was placed in his grave.

Voynich was a native of Lithuania and was educated in chemistry, law and natural science at the Universities of Warsaw and Moscow. He was a naturalized British citizen.

Paris Hiking Done in Tweed and High Shoes

BY BETTINA BEDWELL

PARIS.—(Special Correspondence.)—Spring fashions, which make a point of lots of sartorial allure for chic women, are reviving the tailored dress. This sounds like a weakening of the all womanly woman program that Paris is hallowing. It isn't. Tailored dresses, in which Paris hikers adore the Bois de Boulogne and other fashionable walking trails, are sewed up in feminine attire. More than this, they are further strengthened by hiker accessories and colors.

The smart tailored dress has its tweed but to match, and it is usually treated to intricate details also. Like the smart tweed frock in the sketch, it takes to dainty color as a further statement of the chic of femininity. This dress is made of a soft, light-colored material, and has a tucked waist of white georgette that buttons with red bone buttons to the belted jumper blouse. These buttons form a line down the center front of the blouse and help to fit the long cuffs to the wrists. Patch pockets are cut down into points and trimmed with red silk stitching.

The skirt is flared by two godets in front, and reaches just four inches below the knees. The Moynaux hat, which is made of straw, is a little more than it is ruffled at the right side, so that it is distinctly girlish and pretty. It is banded with a red leather that passes under a fold of the material at the front of the crown. The shallow crown that leaves the forehead in plain view in spite of the brim is a style feature.

Most important are the new Perugia high shoes, made of varnished, red-brown leather, cut in one solid piece—a marvel of fitting—and attached by a narrow leather strap up the inside and around the ankle.
